The first Club of Beaver No. 94 41st Council meeting was held in December in the Ryley Club.

An executive was elected, as follows: Pres., Randy Raunser; Vice Pres., Don Wood; Sec. Treas., Judy Moore. Delegates for the regional council were Randy Raunser and Don Wood.

At the meeting, it was carried that each club contribute $100 to cover the cost of the new regional building which was to be raised during the club term. A motion was made and carried that the $100 be deposited to be held in the District Agricultural office at Rapid City.

It was also decided that every secretary from each club send a copy of the minutes of the meetings to the State Harvesting Regional Specialist, Vermillion, Alberta, following their meeting.

In this manner a close contact was kept with the regional specialist and thus informed as to what each club was doing and how a trophy donated for this cause.

A new regional specialist was now introduced to the fellow members and given history of the club and its mission to this area from Stettin, Alberta.

The second council meeting is to be held Thursday, Jan. 18, 1974, at the Ryley Club, Rapid City. The meeting is intended to the Ryley 41st club for a very delicious lunch that

As usual, the League will supply the ham, buns and butter for the supper and those who attend will supply the rest of the food as well as the dishes and cutlery.

Jack Whyte recorded the official opening of the Community Centre in December, 1953. Premier E. C. Manning performed the official ribbon-cutting ceremony which symbolized the opening of the new Community Centre. The C.P.C.L. band played during the opening ceremonies in the afternoon and presented a concert in the evening. The president of the Tofoed Community League for the year of the rebuilding was Bill Davison, who presided at the afternoon session of the opening ceremonies.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the ended to all residents of To-field and district to come to the potluck supper and the entertainment following. New residents may be interested in hearing about the opening of the Community Centre and oldtimers will enjoy reminiscing. The plans for the school addition are of wide interest.

Tofield has not yet been able to start a first in the standings of the Vegreville Mercantile Hockey Association, as they lost their fourth straight game on December 20. The team consists of four players: Tom Stauter, captain; Sam Lusch and Shendelsky, Lamont and Tofield. The Shendelsky-Hornets led the team the first two periods of play but were outscored in the third period dominated by scoring three times and allowing only one. Tofield was Ken Stauffer, un-

CHRISTMAS CONCERT
SPILSTEAD. An old-fashioned Christmas concert, held at the Spilstead Hall on the Christmas season in this district.

Evening of carol singing, reflections, story telling and songs by youngsters, presented choral singing by a choir.

Even though the temperature dipped to 20 degrees below zero, the hall was packed.

People came from as far away as Edmonton, Minnisk, Rose Creek, Kinsman to join Spilstead in making this such an enjoyable evening.

Following the concert all young people present received a large box of treats and oranges, apples and candy were passed around to the adults with commitments of the Spilstead Ladies' Choir.

Shirley and Sharon Fairbairn and Sharon Winder decorated the walls with very artistic drawings.

This gathering brought back memories of Christmas carols which were sung in the Spilstead hall many years ago and everyone agreed this should be again become an annual event.

FILE ALARM
The County of Beaver fire engine, stationed at Holden, was called out late Monday night to a fire at the Holden National farm, about 12 miles southwest of Holden when the fire broke through the roof, being totally destroyed, having all the pigs in the building were saved. The engine from Camrose was also called out, but owing to a lack of water, and freezing with the temperature around 25 below and a wind, there was no chance to save the building, but no other buildings were damaged.

The engine and Holden volunteer firemen were at the scene most of the night.

New Year Greetings to one and all and may 1971 be a good year for you. The Annual Children's Christmas party was held on December 18 with a good program provided by children of the community. Mrs. Joan Peterson is to be given a great deal of credit for her work in making the evening what it was. Santa came and had a gift and bag of goodies for all youngsters, followed by lunch served by the Ladies Club.

On December 23rd, despite very heavily shocked roads, many turned out for the annual Christmas Carol singing held at the hall. These in attendance were treated to two acts by the Junior Choir of Beverly United Church, Edmonton. Twenty girls and boys sang "Away in a Manger" and "Silent Night". Charles Cuthbert was in charge of the services and brought greetings from his wife, Marie, and son, Rodney. The First Saskatchewan School Band entertained pupils who are taking music lessons each Monday, and their parents, on December 23rd. This was a real treat for all who heard them.

The following article is from the March 1971 issue of the Homemaker, a publication of the Canadian Council of Women.

DISCIPLINE
Parents should represent the discipline in planned order. When a child does the right thing, when he makes the appropriate choice of his own volition, the parent has achieved success.

The discipline that is to be given within the child the kind of self-discipline that will lead to responsible citizenship.

Such a quality is inspired in a child by the example of his own parents. If we are not careful, we can set an example that is high and we want to live up to that and if we are not careful, we are setting an example that is low.

Self-discipline relates to the child's ability to control his own behavior. It is the child's ability to control his own behavior.

1. The protection of his own physical safety.
2. Respect for the rights of others.
3. Respect for other people's property.

However, such self-discipline develops in a child through the example of his parents. If the child is to learn to control his own behavior, he must first see his parents controlling theirs.

Studies indicate that harsh punishment is ineffective. The child who is punished is more likely to be defiant than obedient.

Parents who take a middle course of action with respect to discipline seem to succeed best. In raising obediently but not rebelliously children.

Of course each child is different. One may be placid and obedient, another a stubborn and difficult. The parent must respond to the child's individuality. The child's family priorities can be applied and children, despite differences in temperament, can learn from them.

A child's basic emotional needs are to have a feeling of self-worth, to be recognized as a person, and to achieve a sense of purpose. Parents rate. If they feel safely off of these needs, every day in life, the degree of self-discipline in the child is related to his behavior.

Here are two examples:
Rule of Life: The parent learns to work the child is to be loved.

A child who is something from a slave. The parent can teach the child in several ways:
1. Teach the child to be obedient.
2. Teach the child to be obedient.

I go to the store with the child and he is obedient. I tell him the wrong thing but he may not want to do it. I tell him because he is a good person and he is obedient.

Then try to discover why the child has the impulse to do this. In effect the parent says, "I will support you, but I will not support your wrong doing."

Rule of Life: Family security.

Back the Bay

During the past couple of weeks western farmers may have received another reason why they should throw strong support behind the Hudson's Bay Route Association, as once again they saw grain shipments completely tied up at the British Columbia terminals because of a railroad strike.

We'll admit grain at Churchill's elevators wouldn't be of much use at this time, because the port would not be frozen, but in the light of other railway strikes, this could only be a detail. If Canadian farmers weren't so heavily dependent on so many unities in one area of the country, it would be easier for them to ride out the odd dislocation in one area or another, because there could be at least two alternative shipping points.

Although we have followed and supported the Bay route for years, we were amazed to read last week that as far back as 1920 a Royal Commission pointed out that shipping in the Bay was assured for 100 days a year, rather than just the 65 days the port was allowed then and ever since to operate on.

Just think of it . . . that's a twenty-five percent increase in use available. And it's been there . . . the extra potential . . . going to waste for more than forty years.

40th birthday

From Ottawa a few weeks ago came the news that 4-H will be celebrating its fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Canadian Council on 4-H in just a month, May 18, 1971 was the date recorded when the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls Club Work (re-named in 1952) was established.

Despite that fact, the program can be traced, through authentic documentation, at least back as far as 1913. During the period from 1924 to 1930, the two railway companies provided trips to provincial leaders of club members to attend the Royal Winter Fair, in Toronto. The desire to co-ordinate and correlate the work of various provincial groups led to the formation of the national group, and the organization has never looked back.

Forty years later, or fifty-eight (whichever way you'd rather have it) there are thousands of Canadians who can attest to the training and skills they received as members of 4-H, the personal development they experienced in the fields of citizenship and leadership, and also the contribution made by 4-H to community development and progress. One has only to look at the vast improvement in livestock in this and other areas, for instance, to see the tremendous impact that has been felt from 4-H clubs. There are other factors involved, of course, and it would be ridiculous to ignore the contributions made by artificial insemination programs, of ROP and similar improvement organizations. Still the fact remains, many young farmers have been trained as selectors to develop a critical, and a knowledgeable, eye in their stock selection programs.

There are other important contributions too, from 4-H, without in any way over-exaggerating the worth of the program. We've heard of no members from this area yet who will attend the 40th annual meeting in Victoria, B.C. from May 17 to 21 this year, as part of that province's Centennial, but we hope they'll be some. And in any case, we know there will be many who wish at least another forty years of successful operation.

Delight for marketers

Canada's ten-year census isn't very far away, with personnel being appointed, and attending schools, all over the country. And according to reports, the new census is going to be a marketer's delight. Clearly the census is being designed to show extensive and affluent and mobile Canadian households, writes on government contact.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics plans to make market-oriented area details . . . right down to the district level . . . more quickly and more accurately.

Every third Canadian household will receive a more detailed form than the rest, which for the first time will ask what you have color television as well as black and white TV in your home, and whether you have an automatic clothes dryer. On the other hand, you won't be asked if you have a radio or washing machine as in the past, since it is assumed that in 1971 just about everyone has.

Also for the first time, you will be asked how many times you have transferred from one Canadian municipality to another since June 1st, 1960.

The idea is to get a more statistically accurate picture of Canadians on the move. Are they really as mobile as has been suggested? The government, and doubtless industry, wants to find out.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA, April 18. When 2,500 miles of pipeline stretch overland through an immense part of the continent, it is little to be surprised that the government can do so much more expensive than one in Alaska.

But, all pipeline may someday be built in the Canadian north. It is expected that the pipeline will be built in the Canadian north. It is expected that the pipeline will be built in the Canadian north. It is expected that the pipeline will be built in the Canadian north.

Those who favor a pipeline will suspect that the government has blocked its construction. It is not so. The pipeline is not so. The pipeline is not so. The pipeline is not so.

Now, at long last, the added pressure on northern development may possibly tip the scales slightly in favor of this long neglected opportunity. Naval officials have long maintained the season could be greatly extended, and added strength is being lent to this testimony by the recent visit of the icebreaker St. Laurent on the 1st and 4th of last December.

The 105th anniversary was entirely free of ice . . . just imagine how much extension there could be with an icebreaker opening up the way right into December.

ANHYDROUS AMMONIA

Why? Because I'm your Elephant Brand dealer and that means a lot. It means complete fertilizer knowledge and a wide range of Elephant Brand services.

Take anhydrous ammonia. My large applicators apply this high analysis fertilizer into the ground where its nitrogen spreads evenly throughout the root zone.

Another feature about ammonia — it can be applied in fall. The soil holds the nitrogen against leaching and runoff, so it's ready to go to work in the spring.

So come in and see me now. Find out what's just right for your soil and your crops.

 Mrs. Edna G. R. Taylor, of the Village Association for the Visually Handicapped, held her monthly meeting on Monday evening, March 29th, in the Lutheran Church, 1000 Main St. The meeting was held in the church parlour with a round table discussion being held. Mrs. Taylor, who is the president of the association, reported on the work of the association. At present there are 20 children from their area attending the school and the association is hoping to build a residence in the near future so all the children will be supervised under one roof. They hope that all organizations will unite and work with donations and help in their plans and work. Some of the ladies in the community will undertake the distribution of packets of seed, "Seeds for Hope", instead of those having to be mailed as postage is becoming an increasing expense.
 Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Overholser attended a banquet at the Macdonald Hotel on Thursday evening, March 25th, when the N.A.P.D. held their annual meeting. OUR INMIGRANT WATERFOWL a living natural resource!

Every spring and fall, Albertans are reminded of the great mystery of migration... as thousands upon thousands of waterfowl gracefully fly over our heads. To some Albertans, they represent exciting sport. To all of us, they provide a majestic spectacle.

Because our waterfowl season is so numerous, many of us have the attitude that they will be with us always, but that is not true at all. As we have learned the hard way with the Buffalo, the Whooping Crane, and many others, like all of nature's creations, our waterfowl must receive a measure of protection if they are to survive the changes in their environment caused by man.

"WILD WINGS"
To help us better understand and appreciate the natural phenomenon of our migrant waterfowl, your gas company has produced a half hour television color documentary. In this program of the series, "THE WORLD AROUND US", we follow these "Wild Wings" across the plains and parklands of Alberta, north to their Arctic breeding grounds.

Film shots in super-motion motion artfully depict the majesty and grace of the royal swan, waterfowl, the Canada Goose, and the colorful spectacle of clouds of mallards in brilliant fall plumage. Filmed and narrated by WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHER AND LECTURER, EDGAR T. JONES, this program provides some of the most revealing footage of migratory waterfowl ever filmed.

I have never done any cancelling for fulltime, which is no longer a former controlled organization. If anyone wishes to submit information to a newspaper or any other publication, I feel that the least they could do would be to make certain of the truth of what is printed. The organization that I was cancelling for is the National Farmers Union, supported and financed by its farmer members. This allows us complete freedom to operate to improve the farmers' economic standards without any hang-ups that may be caused by the other organizations.

The monthly meeting of the Tofield and District Chamber of Commerce took place in the Library Room of the Community Hall on Tuesday, with 21 members and two visitors. C. Ringer of Camrose and Mr. Gordon Taylor of Edmonton, present. Also at the meeting were six high school students. The meeting was presided over by Cole Priest and Earl Haver as secretary.

Mr. Priest welcomed the students and said they were welcome to attend any future meetings, and it was gratifying to see the younger members of the community taking an interest in the Chamber of Commerce. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the Library Room.

Industrial present was given.

Tofield High plans annual Spring Prom

The students of Tofield High School are busy with preparations for their annual Spring Prom, to be held Friday, May 1, in the school auditorium. A very entertaining program will commence at 8:00 p.m., followed by a dance from 9:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. The graduating students will participate in a Grand March at midnight.

This year, however, instead of the customary election of a queen, a "Student of the Year" will be elected from the graduating class.

Due to the shortage of funds in the high school, formal invitations will not be distributed at this time. All interested students are welcome and personal invitations will be sent to those wishing to come from the student body. The admission is set at $5.00 per person, which includes refreshments.

Remarkable record

A record of half a century in an elected public service position is not unusual at any time, but especially unusual when the particular career doesn't start until a man is past 40.

Such is the exceptional record of Hans Huseby, who was honored recently at a public meeting in Holden on the completion of fifty years as a trustee of the Holden Drainage District. Elected by acclamation as one of the original three trustees of this drainage district, the first one, Huseby has contested a number of elections over the ensuing half century as well as receiving acclamation a number of times. On every occasion, however, he continued to hold the confidence of the majority of voters, a record which in itself speaks volumes, and he continued to give service to his district in a most remarkable way, amassing a considerable wealth of knowledge and understanding about the principles and the problems involved in drainage. This is by no means the only area of public service for this farmer, highly respected in his own area, but it obviously is the most outstanding record. Had he not been so alert and observant in many areas, and so accurate in applying the lessons he learned, there is little doubt but that his neighbors would have cut short his career many years ago.

Still active and self-sufficient at 93, Mr. Huseby is planning again next month to head for his native Norway, to enjoy a holiday, and to learn the latest methods of farm operation and culture being used in that country. It's little wonder this acute and willing worker has been so much appreciated in the area he worked so hard to build.

Statistics published in the Journal of the American Association of the Canadian Cancer Society, show an increase over the past 10 years in the survival rate of most types of cancer patients, including patients with cancer of the mouth and tongue, throat, rectum, prostate, or cervix.

District news items from Ryley

(Mrs. Beth Davies)

CVW TRUCK The Ryley CVW sponsored a strawberry tea and bake sale on May 29 in the church kitchen and it turned out to be very successful. Eleven boxes of clothing and other items were sent to the United Centre and the 14th Division Rehabilitation Centre. There will be no more meetings held during the summer. A few women gathered at the church last Monday and varied the church floor and did spring cleaning.

NEW LOOK

The new look in the village of Ryley is the solid street and it took many hours of hard work to get them in shape before putting the all new Ryley street in. John Jeffrey, town clerk, and his wife, Mrs. Jeffrey, are taking the street and all its work to the very end. Around Wayne with the new Ryley street, Mrs. Jeffrey's hand is turned and the new Ryley street is made it nearly.

News from Ministik and district

(Mrs. Ann Roddick)

STRAWBERRY TEA

MINISTIK The straw berry tea held on Saturday afternoon was a huge success, despite a much needed rain which persisted all day. Visitors came from all surrounding districts, including David Williams and Kevin O'Neil from the heavy rain.

Verla Soren and Dennis Soren were on a fishing trip for a week at Balloch Lake in central Alberta.

Miss Betty Bous of Edmonton spent the weekend at the Ministik home, also taking in the strawberry tea.

Several from here took in the strawberry tea on the weekend, others attending the rodeo at Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Enns and family and Mrs. Fern Enns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Enns, were on their return from the rodeo at Lethbridge.

Health Unit notes

BOYS AND GIRLS AND HARD WATER

Everyone knows that hard water causes lime to build up in water heating apparatus, and that hard water requires much more soap in the bath, but for laundry purposes there is much more to it than that. For some of the more recent observations are set out below.

infinitely explained. Canadian workers have confirmed the reports from other places in the world that in areas where the water is hard there is a lower death rate from heart disease. The reason for this is not known but it has been noted in several different countries. A suggested explanation is that the chemicals which make the water hard exert a protective influence on the heart and that lower the death rate from this condition.

This second look at hard water, and what it does, has brought to light another explanation. An Australian research worker has found that the normal level of water in females at birth, which is 1.25 to 1.50, is altered by the hardness of the water, and that where the water is hard more boys are born, in order to confirm this observation some statistical work from Britain was examined.

In a survey in 1959 some thing happened in the ratio of male to female births. The ratio, which had been about average, shot up sharply and stayed higher than usual.

More boys were born than were expected. In order to explain this it might be anticipated that some change took place in the water supply in 1959. This is exactly what happened. A change in the supply caused an immediate and permanent increase in the hardness of the water supplied to the town. It was noted that not only did the local hardness increase, but the proportion of magnesium and chlorine to calcium also changed. It may be that the change in the water is associated with the proportions of the chemicals to each other rather than their absolute levels.

Newsday after five years after the switch in water supply the local death rates went into a decline. This could be due to a fall in deaths from heart disease associated with the harder water. The reverse of this was noted in a Lincolnshire area where the water supply was artificially softened. Five years later, deaths from heart disease became more common.

Do you have a language daughter who is wondering what she will do during the summer holidays? From the news media we learn that jobs will not be very plentiful. Also, your daughter may be just a little too young to meet the

What about attending a summer course for three weeks? I realize that often girls registered in senior matriculation patterns are rejected by their timetable from taking Home Economics in High School. Here is some information which may be of interest to you.

High School Credit Courses will be offered at the Agricultural and Vocational Colleges this summer in Home Economics. The schedule is as follows:

Home Economics I, Vermilion, July 12th to 20th.
Public and Trade, Olds, August 15th to August 18th.
Public and Trade, Olds, August 15th to 20th.

There will be a tuition fee plus cost for room and board, materials and supplies. The exact details of the course have not yet been received. However, if you are interested in this information either contact my office or the principal of the various colleges. I assume a course will be on a first come basis.

This is a wonderful opportunity for your daughter to participate in vocational training, meet new friends and also obtain extra high school credits. This would be a very good transition for the young girl to learn to be away from home and yet not be completely alone.

The Principals are:
Mr. J. E. Burdell, Olds Agricultural and Vocational College, Olds.
Mr. W. Berny, Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College, Vermilion.
Mr. A. Pein, Public and Trade, Olds Agricultural and Vocational College, Olds.

County Council briefs

On 10th north to Highway 14, and from the R.R. 3-10-14W, north to Highway 14.

Three Mayors of Township 14, Northwesterly, attended the meeting at this time and discussed with Mr. Trenchard and Mr. Wertheim, the secondary road north of Edmonia which is to be constructed this year. Mr. Mayo outlined the problem in regard to the pipeline crossing on this road and suggested that if he would have permission to acquire the road so that he could have a easement of 10 ft. wide in the center of the road, this would permit him to fill at the bottom of the ditch in question. Mr. Trenchard advised that this was within the regulations. Mr. Mayo requested permission of the Council to contact the Dept. of Mines and Northern Affairs and the Department of the Crown to have the pipeline in the center of the road to have the easement in question lowered.

Mr. John Jeffrey, Town Planner for the Village of Ryley, attended at this time and requested permission of the Council to use their fire fighting unit to flush sewer lines in the village. He advised that this is usually done about twice a year and when the village owned the fire unit, they purchased equipment to be used for flushing the lines and it will not need any other unit but the fire unit, and it is not necessary to have a separate unit for flushing sewer lines, but that the Village be informed that this unit is to be available at all times for fighting fires. The firm As outlined the need for the unit and main sewer work to be done by the County Council in 1971 were presented.

Moved and carried that the Form A's as presented be approved.

Three Mayors of Township 14, Northwesterly, attended the meeting at this time and discussed with Mr. Trenchard and Mr. Wertheim, the secondary road north of Edmonia which is to be constructed this year. Mr. Mayo outlined the problem in regard to the pipeline crossing on this road and suggested that if he would have permission to acquire the road so that he could have a easement of 10 ft. wide in the center of the road, this would permit him to fill at the bottom of the ditch in question. Mr. Trenchard advised that this was within the regulations. Mr. Mayo requested permission of the Council to contact the Dept. of Mines and Northern Affairs and the Department of the Crown to have the pipeline in the center of the road to have the easement in question lowered.

There is a new basis for grain delivery this year. For most farmers all their cultivated acres can be assigned for the delivery of the six major grains in whatever proportion the farmer chooses.

The details were outlined in a pamphlet mailed to all permit book holders by the Canadian Wheat Board. If you did not get one, contact the Wheat Board or your elevator agent.

Your permit book is your passport to deliveries! Fill yours out before July 1st!

An opportunity will be given to all permit holders who get their permits on time to reassign acres in the fall when they know what crop conditions have been.

Parents' way to responsible youth

What age of majority means

Demon Rum. That seems to be what a lot of people are remembering about knowing the age of majority.

But there's a lot more to being an adult at 18 than being admitted to bars or the right to drink. Because now in Alberta you're an adult at 18, in every sense of the word.

Think of it this way

Basically any law where the province of Alberta has jurisdiction has been changed so that where "adult" means those 21 and over, it now means those 18 and over.

Some examples

Now, when you are 18 you may enter into a binding business contract in your own name.

Court orders that would be enacted upon an individual attaining the age of 21 (where 21 meant attaining adulthood) now will be enacted when the individual becomes 18.

Now, when you are 18 you may marry without the consent of a parent or you may obtain a mortgage to buy a home or buy a car without a co-signer.

Being an adult at 18 means you can execute a will.

You may also vote in private elections. And, much (but not all) where the local council has decided that the age appropriate to be.

remember

When the age of 18 has been attained the individual is legally responsible for all of his or her actions.

Lowering the age of majority, it's Alberta's way to responsible youth.

It is available in a number of formulations, others, like 2,4-D, is usually applied in about four gallons of water per acre. 2,4-D standard liquid (mixed) costs $4.50 per gallon.

1. Viable—can cause severe drift damage to susceptible crops.
2. Very fast acting—possibly too fast, contact burn and poor translocation factors may limit control situations.
3. Hardest on crop of any of the chemicals we are using.
4. For use on wheat and barley after the fourth leaf has started to develop. Crop safe limits about 8 ounces, can be used up to 12 ounces per acre but may cause damage even at lower rates.
5. 2,4-D Ester—40, 80, 100, 150.
6. Low volatile—not recommended under very high temperature conditions could cause vapor drift damage to susceptible crops.
7. Sweeter acting than standard others.
8. May penetrate better and be more mobile than standard others. May kill more weeds on an acre for same level than standard water.
9. Less harsh on crop than standard water.
10. For use on wheat and barley after the fourth leaf has started to develop. Crop safe limits about 8 ounces, can be used up to 12 ounces per acre but may cause damage even at lower rates.

 MCPA is less harsh on crops and somewhat less effective on most weeds. Hemp nettle is one species that is more susceptible to MCPA than to 2,4-D. MCPA is recommended mainly for use in late and early stages of the susceptible broad-leaved weeds but will not control and Russian thistle effectively.

anyway propagate by seeds only, any village that could be used to germinate and grow to be destroyed by the (fertilizer) is recommended. However, the seed of this species does not germinate usually under all conditions. Usually it germinates poorly in the spring and autumn. However, shallow tillage there, to be effective, is best confined to the summer, fallow year and after harvest.

The winter annual mayweed plants cause the most difficulty because of their larger size, more robust root and great production of seed. The best control is a thorough late fall tillage, with a cultivator, followed by a red or cable weeder to lay the roots on the surface of the ground.

Seeding down a badly infested field to bromegrass is also a good control measure where it is possible and practical to do so. B. Chemical — A chemical used under the control name of Torlon is recommended for control of acetone mayweed in pastures. This should be applied when the overwintered plants are 2 to 3 inches tall. The recommended rate is six to eight ounces of active ingredient per acre applied in about two gallons of water per acre. This chemical is NOT recommended for control of mayweed in cereal crops as much damage to the crop may occur. There is NO known herbicide registered for the control of mayweed in cereal crops at this time. However this is not considered a serious threatening since cultural methods have proven effective for control on cultivated land.

Small patches around buildings and in waste places may be controlled by using a soil sterilant such as sodium chlorate, chlorate or a contact herbicide sold under the common name of Gramoxone.

C. A New Super Soluble Herbicide in Use — A super soluble form of MCPA herbicide which has been proven in Europe is now available in Canada. Farmers using it this year will know it as MCPA K and will find that the potassium salt in this very soluble form of MCPA penetrates deep into weed tissues.

The new formulation which combines wider spectrum control with increased crop tolerance, has been effective in controlling difficult-to-kill weeds. European farmers have reported that the deeper penetration of MCPA K is due to a more complete job on permeation.

Robert Cross, Secretary-Treasurer 45-66

This highly effective formulation of MCPA combines well with diammonia for more complete control of both hard-to-kill and 2,4-D/MCPA susceptible weeds. Several years of research, development and testing on the potassium salt of MCPA has shown increased effectiveness in the MCPA K 64 form.

A recommended combination for control of long necks and weeds of the buckwheat family in wheat is 12 ounces per acre of MCPA K 64 with two ounces per acre of Banvel liquid herbicide (Dacarbazine).

Control of Alder and Weeds in Pastures — Common blue alga (copper, sulphate) is probably the least expensive chemical for controlling algae.

The following data may help in determining the amount of chemical to use in your particular situation. The rate of application of the chemical is usually expressed in ounces or pounds of active ingredient per unit volume of water. It may also be expressed as parts per million (ppm) of active ingredient of water.

1 ppm equals 1 pound of active ingredient in 1,000,000 parts of water. And 1 cubic foot of water equals 6.25 gallons. Therefore the quantity of the chemical can be determined by the following formula:

in diagnosis. The recommended rate is 0.5-1 parts of active ingredient per million parts of water. Another popular and inexpensive chemical for this purpose is a solid under the trade name of "Regone AC". It is a fast-acting contact herbicide which can be applied by injection below the water with the use of a suction-type hose baster, or applied by pouring or spraying the diluted chemical directly on the plants. However, it is a contact herbicide, it is most effective when applied directly on the actively growing weeds. A repeat treatment later in the year may be necessary. The water should not be used for twenty-four hours after treating.

"THE CLIMAX"

Holston, July 20th
The Editor
The Climax of the Village of Holston, Ontario, Canada, is a V. Johnson's picture page of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture.

On this is not the climax of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture. On this is not the climax of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture.

I would like to suggest that the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture. I would like to suggest that the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture.

This climactic act appears to be the climax of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture. This climactic act appears to be the climax of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture.

For the information of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture. For the information of the town in more than 100 pages in a 30 acre pasture.

Where this will end no one knows. Where this will end no one knows. Where this will end no one knows.

In several, we have a lot of people in the Holston district who feel sick at heart over this latest affair, who naturally will be having their eyes and ears open more than ever to see that justice prevails.

As for Mr. Johnson, he has the consolation of knowing that he has more friends than he has ever believed possible. In conclusion, I would like to make one more remark to which I have given a lot of thought. In my life I have never seen a man so much as Mr. Johnson, who has given a lot of thought to which I have given a lot of thought.

A bait, or feeding station for wild birds, has been in operation on the shores of Beaver Hill Lake for about a week. The feeding station is being operated by the Fish and Wildlife Association, with the aim being to attract ducks to the area and keep them from feeding in farmers' fields.

Finances for the project are being supplied from a Wildlife Damage Fund, which is contributed to by the sportsmen of the province.

Food was put out for the first time on Monday, Aug. 16, and by Tuesday of this week over one hundred ducks were making the station a regular eating place. It normally takes from ten days to two weeks before the wild birds realize that it is a safe place to land and eat.

It is illegal to do any shoot in this area, and signs have been posted to this effect. A similar feeding station began in Grande Prairie last year now attracts over 12,000 ducks daily.

Premier Strom visits Ryley

By Ruth Davick
Premier Harry Strom paid a brief visit to Ryley last Wednesday morning as part of his tour of constituencies in the province.

Mayor Ed Albrecht greeted the Premier and took him on a tour of the village, ending at the Recreation Park where Mr. Strom spoke briefly. At the same time, he presented the village with a framed certificate of the Corporation of Ryley, issued in 1950.

Mr. Albrecht thanked the Premier for the certificate and his visit to Ryley. All then returned to the hotel, where coffee and doughnuts were served by Bertha Wineson, Martha Whiston and Myrtle Magnuson.

Uniform opposes daylight saving time

The president of Ufiform, Debra Lee, has urged farmers to make a critical examination of the Daylight Saving Time issue prior to the plebiscite to be held August 30.

In a communication sent to approximately 150 Ufiform officials throughout the province, Mr. Lee pointed out that "You people realize that Edmonton and Calgary, in fact most of Alberta, rightfully belong to the Pacific Time zone and are, in effect, already on daylight time."

"When the sun is directly above the fifth meridian, which is near both Calgary and Edmonton, it is already more than half an hour past twelve o'clock," said Mr. Lee.

Operations of schools, and family habits would be adversely affected by the change according to the Ufiform president.

"But about children who travel long distances by bus each day would be faced with dark, chilly mornings a month earlier in the fall," he stated.

Mr. Lee also pointed out that farming operations are geared to sun of standard time and cannot be advanced or retarded on command.

Theatre opens on September 3

The Tofield Community Theatre, operated by the Tofield Community League, will reopen for business on Friday, September 3.

The opening attraction will be "Double Trouble," starring Elvis Presley. The movie is family oriented and will be shown Friday and Saturday, with show times being 8:00 p.m.

The next meeting of the September's program is scheduled to be carried in this issue of The Mercury.

A warm handshake

Ninety-seven year old Mame Housby of Holden was delighted when he was able to meet Peter Lugheed and shake his hand during a Tery rally in Jubilee Park in Grande Prairie on Friday evening.

Duck stop operates at Beaver Hill Lake

Members of the Fish and Wildlife are quite concerned about the problem of ducks damaging the baiting done in farms and fields. They have suggested that it is a safe place to land and eat. It is illegal to do any shoot in this area, and signs have been posted to this effect. A similar feeding station began in Grande Prairie last year now attracts over 12,000 ducks daily.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Carl, 1000 Main St., Tofield, held Wednesday, Aug. 18, from the Green and Intervent took place in the Tofield Community Centre. Friends from Tofield attended the service. He is survived by his wife, Doris, and two grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, operated the Tofield Cafe for a number of years.

Those who reduced the heat on Friday, August 20, will not be surprised to know that a record was broken that day. The temperature climbed to 88 and broke the previous record for August 20.

The last heat record was in 1967, when the temperature was 87.

Correspondence was read by Mr. Pitt, and included a letter from Miss Susan Appleby, thanking the Chamber for sponsoring her to the Goldie Lake Camp, which she thoroughly enjoyed.

Modern etiquette

Q How should the very large kind of shirt in a cocktail be worn?
A If you can manage it, cut it in half with your fork against the side of the glass ... or else, you can't cut, put it on the plate under the glass and cut it in half there with your fork.

Q Would it be all right for me to ask a couple of friends to arrange a bid for me for the membership in a private and exclusive club?
A No, indeed. You might, of course, hint at your interest in this club privately and discreetly, but if it is up to your friends to make the first move.

Q Is it true, as I have been told, that it is incorrect for one to use one's handkerchief for wiping the nose at the dinner table?
A Not at all. When it is necessary, it is perfectly proper and suitable to use the handkerchief ... as soon-advisably and quietly as possible, of course.

Q Is there a respectable way in which a woman might encourage the attention of a certain worthwhile but shy man without appearing too aggressive or bold?
A How about inviting him,
along with some other friends, to a little dinner party or bridge party in your home?
It's quite possible that through this one evening you'll set him to action.

Q My fiancé is a naval officer and wants to wear his uniform at our wedding. My mother claims this would be out of place at the ceremony.
What do you think?
A It is not at all that military uniform is never "out of place"
... and this includes weddings.

The NOW mood caught on

The Time-for-a-Change mood and the swinging character of the Conservative young leader seems to have caught the imagination of Alberta voters as they joined forces on Monday almost from one end of the province to the other to return Peter Lougheed as Premier of Alberta for the sixth year.

There are many reasons to be learned, and as one very active Social Credit worker told us yesterday "I have to agree our arrogance hurt us." Those Social Crediters who were elected to office in 1967, in trying to switch over to the Opposition, and we may well find this is one of the best tests of the democratic spirit. Indeed, we found somewhat dismayed Fred Coleman's remark that he would prefer not to serve at all than to serve in the opposition. Surely this indicates a lack of feeling for the true essence of democracy, which includes the need for opposition as well as for government. No football player quits his team less possession of the ball, and baseball teams which lose their turn at bat turn everything they've got to putting the other team down. Maybe the analogy isn't quite accurate, but it's close enough.

One implication being read into the total ouster of Edmonton Socials is the effect of the much larger civil service there, which, fairly or not, has become quite unhappy with the government. It will remain a serious test.

Half a lifetime

It's interesting to note that Monday's sweeping change in Alberta's government introduces into the fourth government Alberta has known in 66 years. First, of course, were the Liberals, followed by the United Farmers, then Social Credit, and now the Conservatives.

It seems strange to realize that anyone under the age of 50 can hardly recall the time when there wasn't a Social Credit government in Alberta.

Delay in fast time?

Despite the request of the daylight saving committee that fast time, approved Monday by 62% of the voters, should be instituted early in the month, it would seem highly probable we will have to be content (if) with waiting until next year for this development.

While the committee requested an order in council to establish the measure, of the new government to learn at what cost to either party reconciliation can be effected, as it must be to make an effective working condition.

Even though the Conservatives had lined up an impressive array of candidates across the province, it is hard to escape the feeling that many of the successful candidates were carried to victory on the coattails of Peter Lougheed, and the surprisingly effective image he has been able to build up, much as many former members undoubtedly tried to victory on the Manning name.

The first session of the new House will probably be highly interesting, too, in that nearly two thirds of the members, 48 to be exact, have never had to become accustomed to its strange rules and requirements. It is a situation which has not prevailed in Alberta since 1955, when William Albertson swept in with the original Social Crediters, and it is well remembered that many of them were similarly unaccustomed at first.

Most interesting development of the next few days will undoubtedly be the selection of cabinet ministers, and already much speculation is developing. Much is being said of the need to have a mix of the old and the new, but we expect not more than seven of them at most to wind up in the front benches. Beyond this, there is the fact that many members, perhaps as many as a third of them, had not even considered the possibility of the Tories forming a government, and had arranged or planned for the conduct of their affairs during the two or three months of sitting expected, but are not prepared at this time to turn over fulltime to the job of governing.

In fact, for half the normal three score years and ten, Social Credit has held sway here.

And no one who isn't old enough to recall the change before that in which the United Farmers replaced the Liberal government.

That's remarkable performance, really. Is there a chance the Tories may similarly endure... say, possibly, until the year 2,000.

It seems likely Premier Lougheed will prefer a session of the Legislature to that to present it, and the resultant change would come to the public this year as to be hardly worthwhile. Indeed, more confusion might be caused within and without the province, in our contacts with others, than would seem to be warranted for the short term left.

Locals . . .

Dennis Murray, Robert Dickson and John Sears have returned safely from their overseas.

Mrs. Clarence Scott and four children of Fort St. John are visiting at the Thomas Jacobs home.

Star gazer and others interested in the unusual are in luck this summer, as the Planet Mars is closer to us than at any time in the last 50 years, and will not be close again for the next 30 years.

Mars may be seen from early hours of darkness until daylight as an exceptionally bright star in the southeastern sky, sometimes the only star visible in the area. At times a reddish glow may be seen from the centre of its light, which makes its identification certain.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson went to Edmonton last Wednesday, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. J. A. L. Smith, all returning the same evening. Smith and Edith Mary were home at 11:30 p.m. last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson.

Sunday school is held at St. Mary's Church on Sunday, Sept. 13, at 10:30 a.m. for all ages. Every body welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Taylor, from London, Ontario, have been visiting with friends and relatives in and around Tofield.

Playground highlights

Throughout the past two months the Tofield Playground has been the centre of activity for interested children, the local attendance being large.

Ready learning new games, songs and crafts, we also had special days set aside. These days ranged from "demonstration" day to safety patrol day. However, we did not close the children to the playground, but occasionally strayed to visit each place as the Alberta Game Farm and Bow-Thorne's Farm, Sturgeon was also enjoyed. Other events were a scavenger hunt, nature hike, pet show, penny cricket, and our last event, the pet show. "Thank you" to all the mothers who made food and attended the final event.

We the supervisors, Dolores Thompson, Lorraine Magnusson and Lyle Herbert, would like to thank Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Hoberg, Petra Stenstrom, the Regional and Local Recreation Board, the Lions Club for making the Bus and Playground fund, and Claude Gallinger, bus driver, and any volunteer help we received for co-operating with us.

Leaves has not been back for 20 years and even many new ideas and tunes, with rural electricity bringing up the children.

It is preserving time again. Fresh fruits have been arriving on the market and the prices are coming along nicely. Even if they may not be perfect, each year at this time I receive a large number of calls concerning canning and freezing of food.

Before you are up to your eyes in jars, fruits, preserves and jams, take a close look at your preserving methods.

One thing which always is at least as many people still can meats and low acid foods, such as corn, peas and beans, in a boiling water bath. This may have been a recommended practice years ago when, but no longer so. There have been enough reports of botulism, a deadly disease, as a result of these practices that home canning has been recommended with a great caution to be used with care, and any volunteer help we received for co-operating with us.

We the supervisors, Dolores Thompson, Lorraine Magnusson and Lyle Herbert, would like to thank Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Hoberg, Petra Stenstrom, the Regional and Local Recreation Board, the Lions Club for making the Bus and Playground fund, and Claude Gallinger, bus driver, and any volunteer help we received for co-operating with us.

Leaves has not been back for 20 years and even many new ideas and tunes, with rural electricity bringing up the children.

the action of micro organisms and the enzymes which cause food to spoil. It just shows it is not a minimum. In fruits and high acid vegetables such as tomatoes this is not a problem, but in most vegetables there is quite a marked deterioration in the texture, flavor and color. When you have spent so much time and effort to produce a good quality product, why risk obtaining a poor result by skipping one step in the preparation of the food for freezing?

THIS IS "THE" YEAR TO SELL AT AUCTION!

There has not been a year in the last two decades that's made to order for a producer who sells at auction, then 1971. The buyer likes to come here and buy his cattle. Demand appears to be excellent. All of the competitive bidding and a guarantee check comes at no extra cost. Give it some thought. Woof! Woof! Woof!

Talk about a big dog! This Irish Wolfhound is right there when he's on his hind-end and that works out to him posted on the scales. His name of all this is Brian. And his one substantial quality is that he doesn't bark but he'll send our best wishes to the local postman (just in case!).

Report from Parliament Hill

by Don Macdonald, M.P.

Parliament resumed its third session on Tuesday, Sept. 7. The first item of business was the adjournment of the session.

The session is to last until November 11, 1971, as held by the late Mr. C. D. O'Brien, who was the only Member of the House of Commons to be elected in 1968.

The session will be a very crucial election for all parties, and a very difficult one for the government.

The government's "Employment Support Act" accepted the major portion of the House this week. It provides up to $10 million for industry which has, or is likely to encounter, disruptive effects as a result of the actions of the U.S. in the position of the 10% surplus.

While the major portion of the surplus to U.S. are exempt, the surplus is that it is either those or a day's industry which produce and produce the results of which will only aggravate the unemployment problem.

The Bill is drafted in a form which gives the Minister and one or more of the members of the House the right to make a statement in the House on the subject of the Bill.

While some 25% of our total exports to the U.S. will be affected by the surplus, it is worth noting that in the field of agriculture, some 85% of our exports will be affected.

The surplus is that it is either those or a day's industry which produce and produce the results of which will only aggravate the unemployment problem.

First things first

The first thing you should do when you start a new business is to get a good name. Your name should be easy to remember and should reflect the nature of your business. It should also be unique and not too long. Once you have a name, you should register it with the appropriate authorities. This will protect your name and prevent others from using it.

Toifield grads...

the graduates, also the parents, mothers and the community, who were using this occasion to say "Well done!" to the graduates. He said that Toifield graduates are at the prime importance and respect academic achievement.

After the provincial assembly, the graduates and 70 Chaudhry, accompanied by Mrs. Hilda Duggan, Toifield, gave the military address, saying that the class had enjoyed the year together and would miss each other as they go their separate ways.

In giving the valedictory address, Lyle Jacobson explained that he had not already been enrolled at Carleton University, Ottawa, Ruth Dickman would have been valedictorian as she had obtained the highest average in the County (87.1%) in the Grade XII class.

Lyle expressed the sincere appreciation of the graduates to their parents and their teachers, especially those who had helped over the final hurdles in the Grade XII, to the community administration, and to the community of Toifield. He said and in return for such good educational opportunities, the graduates intend to strive up to the expectations of the community.

David Spivey, Keith Robson, Supervisor of Instruction for Toifield, gave the closing address, saying that the importance of today's change is inevitable and the future opportunities today is all we really have. Knowledge which doubled only once between the death of Christ and the mid 19th is now doubling every six or eight years; change is thus part of every day. Even more so than that time.

Pontiac presents its value story for 1972.

Here are some of the features you'll find on the 1972 Pontiacs.

Read about them.

Then compare them with others. Stack them up against your own standard of value.

Then come in and see the new cars at the Pontiac dealer's.

We believe you'll find the real value you've been looking for.

You know you can always count on Pontiac to introduce the kind of new cars that mean something more than just an extra denting of time.

This year, on all their full-size models, Pontiac engineers have turned their attention to the little things that make a difference in the way you drive.

They've fitted two steel boxes filled with a resilient material between the front bumper and the frame. On minor impacts, this material compresses to absorb energy, then returns to its original shape. And the bumper returns to position.

In addition, they've provided you with the option of ordering a thick strip of rubber-like material that runs the whole width of both front and rear bumpers to help guard against scratches and dings.

Of course, every full-size Pontiac offers many other value features. Like a double-door, push construction with a perforated inner panel that helps cut down inside noise. Drive-free, upper level ventilation. Side guard beams in all the doors. Engines designed to run on mid-level or low-level grades. Power front disc brakes, power steering and, on V8 models, automatic transmission, all standard.

Pontiac's trim-line Le Mans also has something new and exciting to offer in 1972.

A new luxury series, called, not surprisingly, Luxury Le Mans.

Inside there's an instrument panel with the look of rare Cayenne oak. A "soft" rammed steering wheel. And custom padding, Rich fabrics. Flush carpet. And vinyl to soft you can easily mistake them for leather.

Ventura is Pontiac's newest baby. It's a pocket-sized, pocket-priced beauty that is proving so popular that cars about all we changed for 1972 was the nameplate.

Some of the equipment illustrated or described is optional at extra cost.

All this in a mere whispering of the features and value you'll be finding on the 1972 Pontiacs.

Pontiac Grand Prix, Grand Ville, Bonneville, Pontiac Firebird, Catalina, Laurentine, Luxury Le Mans, Le Mans, Ventura, a Ford.

If this is the year you're looking for value, this is the year to look at Pontiac. Why don't you?

Little things mean a lot

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—In later little things mean a lot, the Prime Minister's office, the friendly handshake, the interest in the details of the day can win or lose an election for a politician.

The Prime Minister's office is a place where the Prime Minister is seen and heard at the little things in politics. The short, bawled politicians tend to neglect the little things.

Until recently, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau did not like the little things in politics. He had been a strong voice for the Prime Minister's office, and he was not about to lose an election by making such basic political mistakes. But he apparently has decided to pay attention to the little things in politics which often make the difference between victory and defeat.

BAKING TIPS
Canadians eat many apples. At this time of year, most shopping carts carry a bag of family favorites to the check-out counter.

Apples are sold mostly in 3, 5 or 10 pound plastic bags, but are also available in baskets, boxes or cartons. Most families buy fresh apples every week or two because they have a limited storage space. Apples are usually good keepers, and will retain their crispness when stored in the refrigerator either in perforated plastic bags or in the crisper. Baskets of apples should be stored in a cool room of 32° to 40° F., and covered with perforated plastic.

With a good supply of apples on hand, most consumers may appreciate a reminder that apples can be built around this popular fruit. Apples may be cooked for sauce, or glazed and used with poultry or pork in the main course; baked in cobblers, pies, cakes and pastries; or used raw in salads. If your family favors baked apples, try not to limit them to some interesting things now and in the months to come. Apples, baked at 375° F., can share as oven with a casserole and are delicious served warm or cold. The home economist at Canada Agriculture Ottawa include several suggestions for the baked apples.

Baked Apples
6 cooking apples
2 tablespoons butter
4 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
Wash and core apples. Make a cut about half an inch deep around each apple near the top, to prevent skin splitting during baking; place apples in baking pan. Cream butter, sugar, cinnamon and salt. Add water to pan. Bake uncovered at 375° F., until tender (25 to 30 minutes). McIntosh and similar varieties, bake in 25 to 30 minutes; Northern Spy and other firm varieties may take up to 50 minutes. Six servings.

Try one of the following fillings instead of, or in combination with, sugar mixture: add raisins, currants, candied ginger, cut peel or chopped nuts to sugar mixture; use mince-meat, cranberry sauce or jam in place of sugar mixture; top each apple with a marshmallow or a spoonful of meringue, 10 minutes before baking is completed.

At times, among our people, I sometimes think, why not start to make a little and contribute to the cause of the poor? We, as the Senior Citizens, who have lived most of our lives in the white-collar world, we are sure grateful to have made these steps, "a small step to us".

We have many times we do not recognize all the good we have done, and never all the thanks to the people that work in their different jobs, making it more pleasant for our living. Now, our Councilors have just been elected so let us all co-operate and join together to help our town and see the difference in the coming years.

We have the best bus drivers anyone can have. Thank you, Mr. Thomson.

At times, among our people, I sometimes think, why not start to make a little and contribute to the cause of the poor? We, as the Senior Citizens, who have lived most of our lives in the white-collar world, we are sure grateful to have made these steps, "a small step to us".

We have many times we do not recognize all the good we have done, and never all the thanks to the people that work in their different jobs, making it more pleasant for our living. Now, our Councilors have just been elected so let us all co-operate and join together to help our town and see the difference in the coming years.

We have the best bus drivers anyone can have. Thank you, Mr. Thomson.

Sincerely,
Peta Stadler

The monthly meeting of the Tofield and District Chamber of Commerce took place on Tuesday, October 20, in the Library Room of the Community Hall, with eleven members present.

Chairman Peter and Mrs. Hines, due to the absence of her husband, acted as secretary-treasurer.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and Treasurer's Report given by Mrs. Hines.

Meet the Candidate Night was quite successful, with approximately fifty people in attendance, and it is hoped to make this a permanent affair when elections are in the offing.

Various topics relating to the progress of the Town and Chamber of Commerce were discussed. (Further on this at a later meeting).

A Christmas Tree and Party were under discussion, and the tree will be erected in December.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 23 at 8:00 p.m.

Jack Kluken of Vaham was re-elected by acclamation as the representative in Division 2 and will be held for the first eleven years, five of which will be served as Mayor.

Mr. D. J. Johnson of Kinsella was re-elected to serve Division 1, a post he has held for sixteen years, while Mr. A. Brown of Bruce will continue as councillor for Division 3.

Villages name three mayors

Following statutory meetings, Sam Black and Ed Albrecht were elected as mayors of Holden and Ryley respectively.

Mr. Black had been elected as a councillor in the Village of Holden in elections earlier this month and was elevated to the post of mayor by his fellow councillors.

This was Mr. Black's first venture into politics in a number of years, although he has had four years previous experience as a councillor and served two years as mayor.

In Ryley, councillor, re-elected Mr. Albrecht as mayor of the village, and he now commences serving his fifth year in the village's chief post. In addition, he has served eight years as a councillor.

A GOOD YEAR TO BUY

A MINK GARMENT

Anybody planning to buy a mink stole, jacket or coat might be wise to buy it this year rather than to wait until next year.

R. W. Gilles, fur farms supervisor with Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that the mink farmers who attended the annual meeting of the Canada Mink Breeders Association felt that they would have to get 20 to 30 per cent more for their pelts in the coming year if they are going to be able to stay in business. Should many more operations close down, mink could become scarce on the continent, which would inevitably raise mink garment prices to go up.

According to Mr. Gilles, the average price for males and females during the last year was less than $11 a pelt. The males averaged about $1 more than the females. If prices do go up 20 per cent, it will mean an extra $2 to $3 a pelt, which would be less than $90 for an average coat (30 male pelts to a coat). However, when the mink farmer gets a little more for his pelts, it seems that everybody else along the line gets more, too, which often puts the cost of a coat up considerably.

The style of mink coats, says
Mr. Gilles, seems to be more stable this year than last. Last January sales

CLC celebrates 60th anniversary

Centennial Lutheran College celebrated its 60th anniversary with special programs Friday (Saturday and Sunday).

The weekend birthday party started off Friday evening with today's students offering a program of songs and music.

This was followed by a large meal of food, and the evening wound up with an art exhibit by Nobby Sasaki of the University of Calgary.

Sixty-two former students gathered Saturday morning and the annual meeting of the alumni expressed approval of the building a Homecoming Week and each fall and suggested that the adoption of a Homecoming Queen be revived in the 1972 celebration.

An exhibition football game was held in the afternoon, with the CLC Vikings beating the U. of A. Bears by a 14-0 score.

A smorgasbord banquet was held early in the evening, with present and former students and faculty in attendance and faculty in attendance and faculty in attendance.

Rev. Glen Johnson, president of CLC and CLC's Chaplain, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, extended greetings to the CLC's 60th anniversary.

The Alberta Motor Vehicle Branch will use a newly designed vehicle license renewal form in 1972, changing from the current three-part construction to a single-part unit which will result in an annual saving of $20,000. The self-mailer feature used for the past two years will be retained. This feature saves $10,000 in envelope costs each year.

The self-mailer feature will be used to print vehicle descriptions and motor vehicle names and addresses on the self-mailer renewal form which will be mailed in February 1972.

The revised renewal form will require a certificate of registration which will fit a standard size folder.

Calgary, November 19

Dear Sir:

The Alberta Fish and Game Association is in full support of the Alberta Government in giving observer status to any Canada USA fishing talks.

No action should be taken by the Federal government without full consultation with the Province which should be represented at all levels of negotiation.

The Fish and Game Association is particularly concerned with any talks involving the export of fishery products. This cannot be done by the Province alone. It is necessary that the Province and the Federal Government agree on the export of fishery products.

The Alberta Government has cancelled all studies to the provincial government on the subject of water and the action should be taken by the provincial government to ensure that the province is not represented.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA, Nov. 22. One of the favorite pastimes of politicians is to make a speech when they are in Ottawa, and then to repeat it in their own constituencies. Prime Minister James MacDuff is no exception.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Thirteen streetwise demonstrators will be out at Spence school in Ottawa today, greeted by the "bushy" teacher and a group of uniformed students who once looked up to them. Spence is one of the schools supported by the Canadian Save the Children Fund, which this month receives $1,000,000.

Nothing for the West

The manner in which Canada's government handles the issue of the West is a matter of concern to many Canadians. The government's policy of restricting the number of immigrants from the West is a policy that is not only unfair to the West but also to the rest of Canada. # MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA, Nov. 29 — Around the House, the traditional annual income tax system is being reformed. The House of Commons is expected to pass a bill to amend the Income Tax Act in the next few days. The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the next few days. The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the next few days.

"A monumental political achievement, sir... a tax system that no one, not even you, can understand and therefore only you can explain." — NARCIS Vancouuer star

No matter what

Canada's income tax system will be substantially revised on January 1st, "no matter what," according to Finance Minister Jean Ronson. In justification, Mr. Ronson says that the system has been a process of standing reform for over 20 years, and enough time at a change have been spent on the system already without doing any longer.

Mr. Ronson is at least partially correct. A reform was proposed by the Cullen Commission in 1949, but each year many of his proposals have been scrapped as successive governments found them entirely too revolutionary or impractical. In addition to that, the system of the time was a rather simple one, and the amount of tax revenue it produced was not much more than was given the few to fall to it without payments owing to farmers under existing legislation, and replacing them with something else entirely.

There were in this paper, Dr. Macdonald, Mr. Ronson for Vancouver, says, by points out there are really eight phases of legislation involved in the Ronson bill. Mr. Ronson is to give up that time has been given for discussion, is patently ridiculous. Mr. Ronson's amendments were not aimed at reducing expenditures and estate party want it. Even the House of Commons, the traditional annual income tax system is being reformed. The House of Commons is expected to pass a bill to amend the Income Tax Act in the next few days. The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the next few days.

Based on income tax. The most common reason for the guaranteed annual income is the fact that the income tax system is a complex one, and the amount of tax revenue it produced was not much more than was given the few to fall to it without payments owing to farmers under existing legislation, and replacing them with something else entirely.

Just as money. (One) they have had been in the House of Commons, the traditional annual income tax system is being reformed. The House of Commons is expected to pass a bill to amend the Income Tax Act in the next few days. The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the next few days.

Hard to stand. Can Canada afford this much additional spending? The answer seems to be that it cannot, at least for the present and the foreseeable future.

Why work? The second major argument against the guaranteed annual income is the fact that it would involve a large increase in the amount of tax revenue that the government would have to collect.

From the mail bag. Now in seller's market. The disclaimer on the front page of the November 18 issue of the Edmonton Journal, by Provincial Affairs Minister, says that Alberta is expected to meet a deficit of $150 million by the end of the year.

It seems to add up again to a conclusion that the Ronson bill is a complex one, and the amount of tax revenue it produced was not much more than was given the few to fall to it without payments owing to farmers under existing legislation, and replacing them with something else entirely.

Holden school news

The High School Students' Union again this year is celebrating Christmas gifts for Santa Anonymous. A box has been set up for this purpose in the high school corridor, and any student wishing to help is a gift has an opportunity now. For the past several years the students have done this in lieu of exchanging gifts among themselves, and the response has been most gratifying.

One of the high school students, Joe Gile and four boys, visited on a Vocational Guiding tour on Tuesday, Nov. 7th, along with 30 other students from the County of Beaver, to tour (Vardell) farm, careers of agriculture, livestock, dairy and food processing, historic towns, air traffic control, aircraft maintenance and meteorological technicians at the Edmonton International Airport.

The tour was organized and sponsored by Randy Newman.

On December 3, the Tofield 4-H Club will meet for its annual meeting. It opened with a presentation of the 4-H members in the pledge. The vote for insuring 4-H was taken up. The 4-H committee was left up to the adult committee to decide on the matter. It was decided that a presentation be held at John Moore's at 8:00 p.m. on December 3, at 2000 Main St. A social function was planned. If possible, a hayride will be held at Don Woods on January 8, 1972, at 7:30 p.m.

Project sales were given by Elma Schlegel, president of the club. Her presentation included a record book, 64th anniversary brochure of the 4-H club, and Harry Jones, the 4-H agent in our farm.

The meeting then adjourned. Next meeting will be held on January 13, 1972.

The Energy Saver... A Dishwasher

Why Do I Need a Dishwasher?
Probably the most encouraging feature of an automatic dishwasher is that it saves precious time. Besides doing the work for you, dishes are cleaner than you can possibly achieve by hand. A combination of extra hot water and powerful detergent gives those expensive results.

Should I Choose a Portable, Built-in or Convertible?
That depends on your living situation. If you're in an apartment or rented dwelling, a portable is ideal. Choose a built-in as a permanent installation. However, if a move is anticipated in the near future, choose the convertible, which is a portable now and can be built-in later.

How Hot Must the Water Be?
For maximum efficiency, the water temperature for automatic dishwashing should be 140°-160°. It can be checked with a meat or candy thermometer at the kitchen sink.

How much Hot Water does a Dishwasher Use?
The machine does not "fill up." It efficiently uses approximately two gallons for each wash and rinse. Therefore, one load will require between 8 and 15 gallons, depending on the type of cycle used.

Must I pre-rinse?
It is definitely not necessary to pre-rinse dishes before putting them in the dishwasher. Simply scrape off food particles as you would for regular dishwashing.

What About Using the Dishwasher for Good Chances?
Fine china is probably much safer from breakage in the dishwasher than it is when washed by hand. Most china is glazed which protects the finish and makes it safe for dishwasher use. However, it is a good idea to check this with the china manufacturer. Hand-painted china is usually not dishwasher proof.

Must I Use a Special Detergent?
No! A special detergent is not necessary. Dishwasher detergent is formulated for this purpose only. The brand and amount will depend on individual water conditions. Hard water requires more detergent than soft water.

What does a Rinse Agent Do?
A rinse agent helps to eliminate spotting and filming by shearing the water off completely. It is particularly useful in hard water areas. An automatic rinse agent dispenser is an available feature on many dishwashers.

Government moves to close debate on Tax Reform Bill

by Don Macdonald, M.P.

The highlight in the House of Commons today was the government's motion to move the Tax Reform Bill to the House of Commons. The bill, which is the government's attempt to reform the tax system, is a complex piece of legislation that will be debated for several days. The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

1. dealing with personal income
2. dealing with capital gains
3. dealing with the taxation of corporations and shareholders
4. dealing with taxation of trusts and pension funds
5. dealing with business and professional income
6. dealing with international income
7. dealing with the taxation of co-operatives and credit unions
8. dealing with the taxation of farmers.

Furthermore, this bill effects the government's own activities in seven distinct areas: it affects their federal economic, fiscal and monetary policies and planning; it affects their foreign policy; it affects their international relations through unilateral agreements of tax reduction; it affects the federal government and the provincial governments; it affects Canada's trade; and it affects the government's industrial development.

Last chance for 30,000 homeowners for tax discounts

There are about 30,000 real estate homeowners in Alberta who will have their last chance to claim a tax discount of $75, $100 or $150 home ownership tax discount for the years 1968 to 1971.

An announcement today by the Hon. D. J. Russell, Minister of the Ministry of Finance, says that over 23,000 of Alberta's more than 250,000 homeowners have already applied for and received their discounts for 1971. 25,000 have claimed their 1969 and 25,000 their 1968 discounts.

Remaining eligible homeowners, in order to receive the discount for 1969 and 1971, must complete a written application and have it in by December 31 to the same office where the property tax is paid or mail it so that it is postmarked no later than December 31st.

Christmas message from Alberta's Lieutenant-Governor

I like the ancient Hebrew greeting: "Peace be with you." It is especially appropriate at this season when we normally hear a lot about Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men. Sometimes, I feel, we talk about Peace on Earth without thinking seriously about it.

Christmas is a good time for good feeling and good feeling. It should be a time for good and benevolent thinking as well, perhaps on that theme of Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men.

Many of us assume that peace among men is the highest goal. I believe there is a better one like a Peace on Earth that means what it says. I suggest that it should be a time for every human being at Christmas and at all seasons to aim at living in peace with all he can.

ponents of the good earth. That Old Testament character, Isaiah, is one of my favorites. I suppose he did not expect to see the fulfillment of his dream; but I admire his vision of a world community in which, in his words—"They will neither hurt nor destroy in all my holy Mountain." He was thinking of the real peace on earth: with mankind living in harmony with his surroundings instead of being at war with Nature for his own gain. I believe the person who deeply desires Peace on Earth will work and conserve soil and forest; he will have concern for wild creatures as well as for humans; he will try to protect the precious resources of air and water from contamination; he will be more about the oil and gas he is leaving in the earth for his grandchildren; than the volume of non-renewable oil and gas he is extracting hurriedly and burning; he will take a picture of a tree instead of chopping it; he will pick up broken glass rather than add to it; he will throw some crumbs or seeds for the birds. Men have talked a lot about Peace on Earth. Let's talk and think about it as something which would play humans in the intervening role of new arts in the Great Garden of the Earth. What a wonderful!

Modern etiquette

Q. My boy friend has the habit of "table etiquette" whenever we visit a night club. He is going around visiting other friends at other tables, while I sit alone at our table. Don't you think this is rather rude?

A. Much more than rather rude. He should take you "hopping" with him.

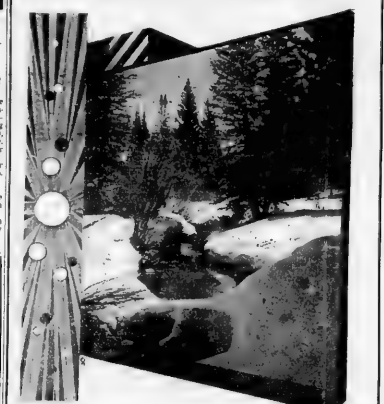

Q. Is the black-bordered type of mourning stationary still in good use?

A. This has not been in "popular" usage for many years.

We have nearly completed the first two years of the decade of the 70's—referred to by some as the decade of love. The exciting years ago in the 1960's, the permissive society have infiltrated our way of life—met all to the good.

I ask that all citizens of Alberta join with me in thoughtful prayer for peace, blessings and for future opportunities which will benefit us all when we get back to the 70's, improve our attitudes and make the 70's, with hard work, meaningful years of change.

I welcome this opportunity to extend Season's Greetings, on behalf of the Government, to all of you.

Peter Lougheed, Premier.

In 1970, Alberta's milk production totalled 1,520,000 litres, an increase of 20.1 million litres, or 1.5 per cent compared with 1969. A total of 150,000 cows were reported in milk in the province which is a drop of 2,000 cows from the previous year. Average milk production per cow reached an all time high of 7,721 pounds, an increase of 219 pounds over the 1968 figure (Alberta Milk Control Board Annual Report).

Lunch was served after the program.

December 3 was the date of Ryley's first basketball game of the season. The girls game was close despite the 41-29 score in Ryley's favour. The boys pulled a victory with a score of 50-27. Rick Hader led Ryley's scorers with 19 points.

Prejudice and unfair discrimination hurt everybody.
 The social and economic costs are incalculable.

Prejudice wastes mankind's most precious resource — the talents and energies and potentials of untold millions of our fellow human beings. Discrimination adds to the human cost.

Anyone suffering from discrimination prohibited under this Act may file a written complaint with the Human Rights Branch. All complaints are investigated with a view to achieving human dignity.

Ryley 4-H Beef Club plans curling 'spiel'

by Roddy Knudsen
The regular meeting of the Ryley 4-H Beef Club was held on Monday, January 3, and was called to order by the club's president, Ron Lyons.

Audrey Lyons opened the meeting with the singing of O Canada, and Valerie Simard led in the 4-H Pledge. There were 29 members present and 12 members absent.

Marlene Kelly read the minutes from the previous meeting, and Lorette Simard gave the treasurer's report; they were both adopted as read. Several items that had been tabled at other meetings were brought up and discussed. A committee was formed to look into a curling bonspiel, and the other items were dropped.

New business concerned the Ice Caper, a and a Valentine Dance. It was moved that members attend the Ice Caper on January 12, and cheer for a bus for about 40 people. The suggestion of a Valentine Dance, instead of a spring dance was discussed and passed. It was decided to have the dance on February 11. Three girls, Mona Knudsen, Sheila Hiley and Sheila Simard were selected as queen, cotillion, and the queen to be chosen by the highest sales of tickets for a raffle to be drawn at the dance. Other minor plans were made for the dance. Entertainment consisted of public speaking, Bonnie Simard gave her speech on "A Typical Morning at the Ryley Beef Club," and the members were chosen to speak at the next meeting.

Dorian Lyons gave a demonstration on "How to use a bookie" for the benefit of the members in curling. Received book "Trophy". The club members sang their closing song, and the bonspiel was played in the gymnasium, with the adults picking the members. The adults didn't win.

Drake University gets Moen on a scholarship

Errol Moen of Camrose will be leaving on Sunday night for Des Moines, Iowa, where he will attend Drake University, after accepting a football scholarship.

Seventeen-year-old Errol just completed his grade twelve at Camrose Lutheran College and will be attending as a first year student at the American university.

Despite the wintry climate that prevails in this area, Errol will still be playing at Drake University. It contains many of the best players in the country, and Errol is one of the best.

Errol is also proficient in other sports such as track and field, basketball, and swimming, and is considered to have a great potential to become a professional hockey referee, something he hopes to do after completing his education.

Errol is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Moen of Camrose. The Moens are former residents of Tofield.

Olympic team support

George Maria, left, Chairman, Olympic Trust of Canada, and Russell Greenwood, President, Kraft Foods Limited, exchange Olympic Team support buttons with Christine Hansen and Debbie Van Nieuwen, Gold Medal winners at the Pan American Games. Kraft Foods has pledged an open-ended sum to the Olympic Trust's 1972 campaign to raise $24 million. Buttons are part of a special school project program. Officials noted that Kraft was the first to provide corporate support for Canadian Olympic fundraising when it conducted a similar program in 1966.

Session date is set by Community League

by Grace Phillips
Tuesday, January 11, is the date set for the annual meeting of the Tofield Community League.

Meat, hams, butter and coffee will be supplied. Those attending are asked to bring casseroles, salads, and desserts.

Everyone is more than welcome to the new residents who were guests at the League's "Welcome Supper" in November.

The Community Christmas Card was again well supported, receiving a total of $17.00 from those Tofield residents who extended their Christmas greetings to friends through this medium.

A suggestion has been made that the funds from the Community Christmas Card be allocated to some special project, and credited to the following: Mrs. Rose Sr. Joan and George Olson, Mrs. Ethel Wood, Mary and Ron Taylor, Thomas Jacobs, Mrs. M. Conn, Agnes Hornet, Bert and Mary O'Neil, Dorothy, Gallinger, Mrs. Lonsdale, John (Husick), and Jim Lonsdale, Bert and Dorothy Clark, Ted and Jean Shewchuk, Dorothy and Len Shewchuk, Velma and Bill Kelly, Jack and Inge Hardy, Jim and Willy Plater, John and Lena Barzosa, Ben and Ella Brown, Peter Stauffer, Noel and Grace Phillips, Hazel and Conrad Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. ## Garden Club hosts prexy

The Tofield Garden Club had a very enjoyable evening on Tuesday, January 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pomeroy, where David showed slides. The slides were of Mexico, Central Africa, Australia, Columbia, and other places of interest.

White of Wainwright, who is president of the Alberta Horticultural Association, will be showing slides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Francis. This, too, should be very interesting to everyone meeting.

Mrs. White during the summer really enjoyed her visit, as she knows a great deal about caring for plants. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

On Tuesday, January 11, at 8:00 o'clock, Mrs. Maureen

Tax reform legislation has been passed by Parliament and is now law. What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about five weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets—

"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.

Plan no increase in provincial income tax

There will be no increase in that under the federal government's tax reform legislation. It is necessary to change the tax by the federal government of the income tax, but that was not the intention of the federal government. The provincial income tax was calculated as a percentage of the aggregate federal provincial tax.

At least one other province has announced an increase in income tax under the federal government's tax reform bill, but there is no intention of increasing provincial income tax in this province.

Nurses discuss altered training

A proposal recommending the transfer of all nursing and allied health programs to the Alberta College of Nursing will be discussed at a meeting to be held in Room 100 of the Royal Alexandra Hospital School of Nursing on Thursday, Jan. 20th, at 8:30.

The meeting has been planned by the Nursing Education Committee to discuss the vital effects on nursing in Alberta that would result from such a transfer. Dr. Past will be present to discuss his report, and the general membership of the AARN are being encouraged by their organization to attend.

In preparing the report, Dr. Past reviewed in some detail the literature on professional nursing and allied health fields and also studied health education legislation and committee study reports from across Canada.

As a result, the report he wrote proposes as a guiding principle the following statement: "That responsibility and authority for the education of nurses and other allied health personnel should be an extension of function of an agency whose primary concern is education."

Unemployment

Figure released last week by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that of a Canadian labor force of 2,000,000 persons, 500,000 are currently unemployed. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for December was 25 per cent for men and women of all ages but there was a wide variation between these and over 20 years of age. Of the working force, 22 years old and over, 41 per cent was unemployed, leaving about 114 per cent with only jobs.

This is particularly significant for farm families, people who must have no lost employment in the sector, and even in a period of high unemployment, many have been able to find work.

The unemployment rate for the year ended in 1971 was 25 per cent, down from 26 per cent in 1970. The unemployment rate for the year ended in 1971 was 25 per cent, down from 26 per cent in 1970.

A new price index measuring movements in prices paid by farmers for commodities and services they use in their operations was published for the first time in late November by Statistics Canada.

The Farm Input Price Index (1962 equals 100) measures price movements for Canada as a whole and separately for Eastern and Western Canada quarterly and annually. Component indexes within the regional and Canada indexes are provided for four major groupings and for a large number of selected individual items.

The Canada Index for 1971 for the third quarter of this year indicates that since 1961 there has been an average increase of about two per cent for all commodities and services priced for farmers. In the third quarter of 1971, the index was 102.2, for Western Canada, 102.5.

The new index is an extension of the former 1958 Price Index of Commodities and Services Used by Farmers (1953-59 equals 100). Publication of this indicator was suspended in early 1970 because it was outdated and because its coverage of commodities and services inadequate.

The improvements in the new index reflect recommendations made in this area by the Federal Task Force on Agriculture and the Royal Commission on Farm Machinery.

The items included in the new index were selected on the basis of the most recent 1969 survey of farm business expenses, reflecting in effect 1961 prices and conditions.

A primary goal in the new series is to provide as many items as possible about the varied farm movements. For example, the new index covers private items under the Food & Farm Machinery, and the Vehicle. The old index covered only major items as a review for farmers and consumers.

The new index is available to be overruled and as a result of the new index, the index of 1961 in the third of 1971.

by quickly giving a high wage increase can hurt in the long run. In 1966 the federal government agreed to give seaway workers an increase of 30 percent over two years. This agreement set the level for demands of other unions, and generally considered to have contributed to the inflationary psychology which grew in Canada in the latter part of the servicemen disputes in the United States to be settled without strikes. But some strikes could be avoided, and others shortened. If there were Canadian legislation similar to that in the United States, covering vital services. There, the government can force strikers back to work for 90 days, giving a breathing space in which negotiators can try to settle a strike without depriving the public of a vital service. Such a breathing space might prove valuable in Canada.

Cars may substitute grain for leaded gas

By Don Macdonald, M.P.
P.C. for Vegreville, Alberta

Don Macdonald, M.P., Member of Parliament for Vegreville, announced today that he will introduce a resolution in the House of Commons to charge the Government with the responsibility of introducing incentives and research and industrial assistance to make possible the use of grain alcohol as a substitute for lead in gasoline.

Mr. Macdonald said today that this resolution should be debated early this spring and deserves support from all members of all parties in Parliament, he said. The Government, he said, should be instructed to "to undertake a practical initiative to respond to these major social challenges, the achievement of a cleaner environment, the improvement of our economy and the creation of greater high paying jobs to provide for a better future for all Canadians."

He said that the findings of the study on the availability of grain alcohol as a substitute for lead in gasoline should be made available to the public.

Tofield Gun Club sets date for big gun shoot

by Al Warner
Last fall several of the Tofield Gun Club members made arrangements for clarification of the legality of muzzle loading rifles for use in hunting big game. It soon became apparent that there was no provision made in the Alberta Wildlife Act to cover their use.

Therefore a brief was prepared and submitted to the provincial Minister of Lands and Forests. He expressed an interest and asked that the Director of Parks and Wildlife, George Kenner, meet with the club members to discuss it further. On January 24th, Mr. Kenner met with the Tofield Club and showed a keen interest in the subject. He expressed his support for the club on February 8th, he expressed his interest in the subject and requested that the way be cleared for muzzle-loading rifles.

it called and larger was a reasonable one and he would agree on with it as quickly as possible. However, as the necessary change must be made in the Wildlife Act by the Legislature, rather than "order-in-council" of the Cabinet, and as it is too late to have it included in the spring sitting, on it may be too late to continue in effect for the 1972 season.

The Tofield Gun Club will hold their Annual Black Powder Shoot on May 21st. Since Tofield and Camrose are planning their shoot for consecutive days, it will be limited to a one-day event, except for the first and steel fire building contest which may be held the evening of the 20th. Since the Canadian Championships are to be held in Tofield later in the year, the club plans to concentrate on the more festive club competitions such as bullet-applauding, sniping, and a new muzzle-loading shotgun event that promises to be most interesting. Since it is a long weekend and most people will be staying over until Monday, the Grand Council Fire will probably be on Sunday night, with a few practice ones on Saturday, so that everyone can come shooting time. For the benefit of the municipalities, the club sometimes sends some of the fire loads in for incineration the following morning.

Should ban snowmobiles from operating on public thoroughfares

... says Alberta Safety Council

The public interest would be served if local governments, in certain snowmobile seasons, were to ban the vehicles from operating on public streets and roads, says the Alberta Safety Council.

This position is based on the experience of the past several winters in Canada. The industry of deaths and serious injuries associated with snowmobile accidents have been the result of snowmobile collisions with other motor vehicles.

A statement of the position was made for it has been sent to all local governments in the province. This was done in response to the news that the province and municipalities have agreed to allow snowmobiles to operate on roads in the winter.

A recent survey by the Canada Safety Council of snowmobile-related deaths across Canada showed that more than 50 percent of the fatal accidents during the winter of 1975-76 occurred on public roads.

In all last winter there were 71 fatal snowmobile accidents on streets, roads or highways. Sixty-six of these were collisions with cars, trucks or buses which resulted in 48 deaths. Twenty-one of these resulted in 118 people killed in two provinces. All but three of the 66 fatal collisions reported by Canada Safety Council occurred in the winter of 1975-76.

Quebec and Ontario have had the poorest records. Of the 118 people killed in all, 100 were in snowmobile collisions with other motor vehicles. The rest were in collisions with other snowmobiles.

Local governments which decide to pass bylaws allowing snowmobiles on the roads may do so with the idea that the vehicles will only be allowed to go directly to or from an area where they can be used safely. However, in practice this would allow the driver the freedom to go almost anywhere. At the moment, effective enforcement of this by-law could be very difficult because the current registration plates are hard to see from any distance. Even if enforcement was believed, the fact that snowmobiles are now being used on roads is a violation of the provisions of Section 14, subsection 2 (b) of the Snow Vehicle Act, a local government could be making it legal for a person to operate a type of motorized vehicle on a public road without a driver's license. The Snow Vehicle Act appears to exempt operators of snowmobiles from many of the provisions of the Highway Traffic Act, among which are the driver license regulations.

At the same time, it is quite clear by now that the snowmobile industry is not at all aware of the provisions for registering vehicles contained in the Snow Vehicle Act. For example, all snowmobiles must be registered with the province.

Suffield finds way to destroy DDT

... critical temperature

by Ralph Wilbury

(Chaper's column)

(The opinion or persuasion)

It is not known if the federal government was aware when it banned DDT in 1970 that it was leaving its depots of national defence stock and dry with DDT in the hands of the staff and no safe way to get rid of it.

In any case, there were about 2,700 45-gallon drums of a DDT and ketone solution stored at defence base throughout Canada. The solution had been in the drums in some cases as long as ten years and the drums were starting to corrode and leak like they could have been any minute.

The problem with DDT is that it is an extremely stable compound with a half-life estimated between four and ten years. That means that if two gallons of DDT are poured on the ground, in 10 years, as much as one gallon will still be available.

It might not be in the ground, however. It might have been on a plant that eaten by a number of small animals. The small animals would be eaten by a larger animal which would be eaten by a hawk which would die.

In 1970, Dr. Delaney, research scientist at Suffield, began investigating the ways of destroying DDT. Under his direction, Walter Montgomery, a chemist, found that DDT would decompose into simple harmless substances when it was heated at a temperature of 1,000 degrees.

Mr. Montgomery's team found a firm in Ohio that claimed to be able to build a furnace that could heat the substance to the proper temperature. Early this year, the DDT was moved to a new site and held in the furnace, and now the barrels containing the DDT were not getting any hotter. The DDT was left in the furnace for three months. Now Mr. Montgomery takes visitors through the site and shows the DDT in the furnace. He points out that when the 10,000 gallons are destroyed, less than one-sixth of a cup of DDT material will have escaped into the surrounding atmosphere, about 0.002 per cent of the total.

He also points out that the effluent from the plant which is mostly water containing a small amount of hydrocarbons, chlorine, is now enough to drink. When the water comes out of the plant, however, it is still quite warm so he directs it to the river.

The destruction consists of a furnace which heats the DDT to a temperature of 1,000 degrees. The waste products go into a type of chimney called a "scrubbing stack". Water cascades down the stack, dissolves the hydrocarbons, and carries it away into a storage lagoon. The slight acidity of the water in the lagoon is neutralized by the alkalinity of the soil.

The other products of the reaction, carbon dioxide and water vapor, are allowed to drift into the air.

The temperature of the reaction is carefully controlled by monitors. Mr. Montgomery explains, because burning the DDT at a temperature slightly above or below 1,000 degrees is as bad as doing nothing. He said some incomplete combustion, leaving behind other persistent compounds which could be as harmful as DDT itself.

When the defence department's old stock of bug killer is gone later this year, Mr.

Cattle raisers in Alberta will be exempt from paying a "herd tax" for a two-year period starting immediately.

Premier Peter Lougheed made the declaration at the Western Stockmen's Association convention in Edmonton.

The government will review the Act, and either repeal it or re-instate it following the two-year moratorium.

The Herd Tax (Provisional Act) has been in force in Alberta since 1966. It is a tax on the number of cattle on hand at the end of the year. The purpose of the penalty was to encourage the culling of cattle with horns, thereby reducing the danger to livestock and humans during shipment.

In 1966, the tax was set at $200. Most cattle raisers have been able to build a fence that could heat the substance to the proper temperature. Early this year, the DDT was moved to a new site and held in the furnace, and now the barrels containing the DDT were not getting any hotter. The DDT was left in the furnace for three months. Now Mr. Montgomery takes visitors through the site and shows the DDT in the furnace. He points out that when the 10,000 gallons are destroyed, less than one-sixth of a cup of DDT material will have escaped into the surrounding atmosphere, about 0.002 per cent of the total.

When the defence department's old stock of bug killer is gone later this year, Mr.

Cattle raisers in Alberta will be exempt from paying a "herd tax" for a two-year period starting immediately.

Premier Peter Lougheed made the declaration at the Western Stockmen's Association convention in Edmonton.

The government will review the Act, and either repeal it or re-instate it following the two-year moratorium.

The Herd Tax (Provisional Act) has been in force in Alberta since 1966. It is a tax on the number of cattle on hand at the end of the year. The purpose of the penalty was to encourage the culling of cattle with horns, thereby reducing the danger to livestock and humans during shipment.

In 1966, the tax was set at $200. Most cattle raisers have been able to build a fence that could heat the substance to the proper temperature. Early this year, the DDT was moved to a new site and held in the furnace, and now the barrels containing the DDT were not getting any hotter. The DDT was left in the furnace for three months. Now Mr. Montgomery takes visitors through the site and shows the DDT in the furnace. He points out that when the 10,000 gallons are destroyed, less than one-sixth of a cup of DDT material will have escaped into the surrounding atmosphere, about 0.002 per cent of the total.

He also points out that the effluent from the plant which is mostly water containing a small amount of hydrocarbons, chlorine, is now enough to drink. When the water comes out of the plant, however, it is still quite warm so he directs it to the river.

The destruction consists of a furnace which heats the DDT to a temperature of 1,000 degrees. The waste products go into a type of chimney called a "scrubbing stack". Water cascades down the stack, dissolves the hydrocarbons, and carries it away into a storage lagoon. The slight acidity of the water in the lagoon is neutralized by the alkalinity of the soil.

The other products of the reaction, carbon dioxide and water vapor, are allowed to drift into the air.

The temperature of the reaction is carefully controlled by monitors. Mr. Montgomery explains, because burning the DDT at a temperature slightly above or below 1,000 degrees is as bad as doing nothing. He said some incomplete combustion, leaving behind other persistent compounds which could be as harmful as DDT itself.

"If your cup runneth over . . . let someone else runneth the car" ... is good safe driving slogan

One sure sign that winter's here is the sharp increase in the number of people wearing awkward neck casts, in most cases evidence of whiplash injuries suffered in rear-end collisions.

The Canada Safety Council says maintaining a proper following distance is matter how important this may be, maintaining a speed suited to the conditions, will prevent these collisions.

The crux of the problem is the vehicle's control, will the road surface, often slippery in winter driving conditions. It can take up to nine times as long to stop on a dry surface, for example, as on a dry surface.

Many drivers count on their rear view to reduce their stopping distance on icy surfaces. They won't, Canada Safety Council says, because they imagine that they have more traction on snow. Studies show that the stopping distance, especially in glare conditions, but can explode once confidence because not all cars have such a good stop in such a short distance.

A correct following distance gives the driver time to stop without hitting the car ahead or being struck by the car behind in both normal driving and when the car ahead makes an unexpected move. The driver needs plenty of room in which to maneuver in winter driving, especially when visibility is poor.

In dry surface driving conditions, the correct following distance is one vehicle length for every 10 miles an hour for the two second following distance formula. Pick an object such as a telephone pole beside the road ahead. When the car ahead passes the object, start counting a thousand and one, a thousand and two.

If your car passes the object before you've finished counting, you're not keeping your distance. A formula good at any speed.

The following distance should be increased up to four times in winter driving conditions. When icy conditions prevail, the speed should be reduced sharply and following distance increased up to nine times car length for the most miles an hour of speed.

Speed too fast for the conditions and following too closely are involved in all rear-end collisions. Excessive speed is also responsible for many other winter accidents such as striking fixed objects, besides the road.

The sight of cars flattening, spinning after quick starts and skidding sideways shows Canadians still have a lot to learn about winter driving although outsiders might think we are road experts in view of our icy roads and high rate of density.

Patience is the right attitude for winter driving. Starting off slowly and accelerating only as the driver feels the car's face. Patience when stuck, rocking the car back and forth gently rather than tire spins.

Patience when driving, going only at the speed at which you can feel the tires gripping the road surface. Patience when approaching which takes much longer on slippery surfaces and which is controlled by pushing the brakes so that preventing control is maintained.

Experiences shows Canadians take the first part of the winter before getting the feel of winter road surfaces. One they do get the feel, the main hazard is over-confidence.

As snow takes place through-out the winter, drivers get used to pushing their speeds up to dry surface levels. This can lead to serious trouble because of the danger of quick, unexpected changes in the road surface such as melting or partially-broken patches.

The general attitude of drivers should include courtesy as well as patience. Other drivers should be given the break, especially in situations of right-of-way confrontations. A driver could end up being dealt right, way driving requires great attention to the position of each lane and being seen. All winter should be cleared of snow, even if the driver has to stop in a snowstorm to clear them.

Front and rear lights should be visible at all times, because winter driving conditions are often dirty, windblown weather should be maintained at the ready with the inclusion of anti-fog solution.

When snow drifting makes driving impossible, motorists should wait a lot for snow ploughs. But they should ensure there is some air circulation to prevent passing by carbon monoxide, the silent, odorless killer.

In prevent accidents, drivers should always be aware that winter driving is more hazardous and after their driving habits accordingly, the Canada Safety Council says.

Safety Council says should be buckled up. And, as the famous saying goes, "If your cup runneth over, let someone else runneth the car."

Study on smooching shows . . .

One in four marriage proposals made in a parked automobile

Of the taking of surveys, there is no end to the "smooching", Canada's advertising agency says, up with the results of a market study on smooching. Results show that one in every four proposals of marriage is made in a car (usually parked) and there also are a "substantial number of propositions". Car courtship remains as popular as ever. In most cases where actual proposals occurred in other places—at home, in a restaurant, at a dance—usually preliminary overtures had been made in the car. A substantial number of full-fledged proposals, however, are also put forward in the survey shows.

The history of car courtship was traced from the Victoria, British Columbia, in the 1920's and "misbehaved to dizzy heights during the 1930's, encouraged by new luxury automobile interiors, reliable service and the exciting games of Goodman, Dorney and Shaw on the car radio".

At the end of World War II, car courtship became even more popular with the advent of drive-in movies. This setting for romance is still popular in drive-in and rural districts—though a car courtship is more sophisticated diversions".

The survey report.

Rapeseed situation changing

The director of the Alberta Ministry of Agriculture, G. L. Bratvold, says that there is a "substantial number" of Canadian rapeseed growers will be converted to low erucic acid rapeseed in 1973 and they are to retain their over-seeds. He explains that this conversion is based on preliminary information gathered from the rapeseed industry which recently returned from a tour of the European countries, including both Europe and the Far East.

Mr. Bratvold says that rapeseed is a "highly competitive" crop, including our largest customers, Japan, will be converting to the use of low erucic acid rapeseed as soon as we are in a position to maintain a consistent supply. The domestic edible oil industry has also indicated their intention to discontinue the use of regular rapeseed oil in their products not later than the fall of 1972, when the new crop becomes available.

In view of this situation, rapeseed growers in this country should aim at a complete changeover to LEAR by 1973. With this goal in mind, the Canada Department of Agriculture does not intend to increase any broader seed of the regular varieties to seed growers in 1972.

Mr. Bratvold advises Alberta rapeseed growers to plant only certified seed of LEAR in 1972. If they do not, they may find themselves with a crop of high content. There are ample supplies of certified LEAR available, and rapeseed growers should consult their local seed dealer or district agriculturalist regarding the variety most suited to their area.

Mr. Bratvold points out that there could be problems marketing the '72 crop if too much regular rapeseed is grown. There is already an anticipated carryover of about 40 million bushels of these varieties, and it may be necessary for the crushers to blend it with low erucic rapeseed to meet market requirements and exports.

The slow demand for Span up to the present time has been due to the need for testing changes in the formulae of the finished product and in an uncertainty of supply. The crushers prefer to wait until large quantities of LEAR are available before making the changeover. They do not want to maintain two different lines in their system. However, domestic formulators are committed to change away from regular rapeseed oil by November, 1972. If LEAR is not available, they will have little choice but to use other edible oils such as soy, cotton, etc.

competitor

Mark has billions of competitors in the rough game of farming — insects and plant diseases could strip the earth of food if not controlled by nature and by man.

When pests and diseases threaten crops, the Pest Control and Crop Protection Branch of the Department of Agriculture is there to help. In emergency situations, chemicals are provided at cost to farmers and municipalities for distribution to insect farmers.

Field workers carry out the branch's weed-ending program of inspection so that plant diseases and insect infestations do not spread unchecked. A program of applied research ensures that the branch has at its disposal the most effective methods of cultural and chemical control against harmful insects, birds and animals.

Report from Parliament Hill

by Don Manakowski, M.P.
The Trivium Speech, occasioning the 25th Session of Canada's 30th Parliament, was occasioned as has been customary in the past, with the unveiling of a flower clock and a display of floral pyramids.

Consistently absent was the mention of any reference to the Just Society, rather, the emphasis in this session will be placed on removal of barriers which create "bottlenecks" in our society which constrict, in many forms, physical, social and economic.

The Speech suggests a redefinition to the preservation and dignity of individual identity and yet the policies and programs continued by the present government tend to water down the role of individual achievement and reward for the development of their potential and skills.

Nothing is more apparent than in the field of agriculture where the production of agricultural products continues to dominate the highest form of efficiency in our society and yet, our farmers receive little recognition for their expertise and experience.

Nothing is more apparent when compared to other segments of society.

Fortunately for them, an election is soon in the offing. It is only in anticipation of political gain in Western Canada that a pollster would predict a victory for the present government. Only six months ago the conventional wisdom was that a coalition government would be formed to recognize the need for a radical reorganization of our society.

It is more obvious than ever that the government's policies employed in the election of the Liberal Party in 1968 were geared to ward a reduction of federal government participation in the grain industry for, when the Liberals are in power, they will realize that farmers are better off than they would have been under the Conservative BIL as it was enacted.

There still is need for a grain stabilization bill or a grain maintenance program for the grain industry, but it should not be so constructed as requiring the use of black mail with the farmers who may be in a bind.

Many farmers have been rate in the House since the opening which has caused a great deal of concern among Canadians. One of them is the issue involving the removal of the initial RCSP on their buildings and vehicles. I think all those who have taken the time and effort to compare the cost with me by mail, telegram and verbally. This is to direct a most regrettable mistake of belief a deliberate, manipulative attempt to downgrade the traditional role of the RCSP and to cause the Canadian and Canadian population the world. To suggest that people in Canada, or farmers, do not understand the meaning of RCSP is the worst, most derogatory and most insulting thing I have ever heard.

This is a very simple Canadian law which is preserved and I join them in this wish. However, I will continue to press the government for a reversal of this repressive decision, which only serves to deepen the decision and instability in our country.

Another matter, which has raised the ire of many, is the increasing tax burden which the government is placing on the farmer in working and producing. In the past, the farmer has been the beneficiary of the federal Land Initiative Program. Recently we have been aware that grants have been awarded to questionable groups such as devil worshipers, activist groups, homosexual clubs and lesbian communities. Many have questioned the motives of this program, when it is noted that a government minister makes all the approval announcements, leaving the impression that this is a landmark by the Liberals rather than the taxpayers.

And, of course, we have the Geoffrey case while being partially resolved, still raises many unanswered questions. And we have Mr. Marchand and his alleged conflict of interest within his Department of Regional Economic Expansion and his role of Liberal Party organizer in Quebec.

We have the interdepartmental provisions of the $30 million Information Canada set up and the expressed need to justify their existence. We have the issue of bilingualism in the Public Service which has given rise to charges of discrimination, racism and bigotry, causing apprehension and anxiety among many devoted career civil servants, the results of which deepen the cleavage of our French-English speaking people.

There are many other issues as well which highlight some of the gross ineffectiveness and administrative responsibility of this government during the past four years.

In closing, I would like to say how deeply gratified and appreciative I am over the unanimous vote of confidence accorded me at the P.C. Nomination Rally held in Regina last month. I want to thank all of those who attended and once again assure each and everyone of you in my constituency of the pride, honour and dignity with which I hold your re-elected mandate.

A new way to really get your mail moving: Postal Codes.

If you haven't already received it, in the next few days you'll be getting your new Postal Code in the mail. It's not very exciting to look at. But it is very necessary. And it's really not as complicated as it looks.

After two years of studying the systems of most of the countries of the world, here's how we developed Postal Codes for Canada.

The map sequence on the right shows just how accurate Postal Codes really are.

To complicate your Postal Code, you will be receiving a Postal Code Package. It contains your code, instructions on how to use it, a handy address book, special Postal Code stickers for your envelopes, and postage paid address cards that you should send to your friends.

K1

Circle one first 10 digits area, fully designated by a letter.

K2

By adding a number, you can designate an area down to a city.

K2P

By adding another letter, you indicate a specific section of that city.

K2P OF4

And to add three more characters the section of the city is further narrowed to one side of a street between two Codes can also represent other office buildings with 10 or more compartments. They can represent large volumes of mail.

Codes can also represent buildings with over 50 units. In less densely populated areas a code will represent the whole town.

And if you haven't received your Code by April 17th, please call your Post Office. We'll mail it to you immediately.

Kingman hunter shoots for record whitetail deer trophy

Robert Konek, a young sportsman from the Kingman area, may find his name in the list of winners of the Boone and Crockett Club North American trophy competition for 1971. A whitetail buck taken near Kilmory by Mr. Konek has qualified to compete for entry in the records of the Boone and Crockett Club. The entry is being sponsored by the Carleton and District Fish and Game Association. Mr. Tom Tamaszwski, the game chairman for the association, reports that the buck was measured by the local official of the Boone and Crockett Club, J. Harold McLaughlin of Spruce Grove, and scored 157. This exceeded the minimum score required to enter competition as a trophy animal. Preliminary entry, consisting of the official scoring form and three photographs of the head, has been submitted here. The results of the competition will not be available until a later date. The score of the trophy will be determined by a formal and complete measurement. According to Al Richardson, who does the measuring for the local Fish and Game Association, such things as the spread of the antlers at general points, the diameter of the antlers at the base, the number of points, and the length of the antlers, all enter into the formula. The uniformity of the two sides of the neck is of particular significance. If one side measures differently than the other, some are subtracted from the score. The Boone and Crockett Club, with headquarters at the Carleton Place, Pennsylvania, is an organization that records and publishes the big game trophies taken throughout North America. Although Mr. Konek's trophy will not set the all-time record score of 207 recorded by the Boone and Crockett Club for a whitetail deer, Mr. Richardson expects it to rank near the top in the 1971 North American competition and may well be the top 1971 whitetail trophy for Alberta.

Eight candidates hunt for Tory nomination

Voices attending the Progressive Conservative convention for the Battle River constituency (Federal) in Sedgewick next Wednesday (April 19th) will have a total of eight candidates from which to choose. When nominations closed over the week-end, eight candidates from all over the constituency had filed papers seeking the Tory nomination. Rumors of other candidates failed to develop any additional names. The convention will be held in the Sedgewick Recreation Centre. The convention will open at five o'clock with registrations being taken. Association of fields point out that, to be eligible to vote, people must have a residential address in the constituency, be a Canadian citizen, and must register in order to receive ballots.

Beginning at 7:30 a.m., each candidate will speak with 15 minutes allotted for each candidate. The 15 minutes includes the candidate's moving and second and any slogans which the candidate has prepared.

Ballooning is expected to begin at 9:30 a.m. If a candidate should receive 50 per cent plus one of the total vote, he or she will receive the nomination. Should this not happen, the candidate with the lowest number of votes will be dropped from the slate and another vote will be taken, repeating until one candidate gains a clear majority.

Three Federal Members of Parliament will be on hand to speak during the balloting. They are Jack Horner, MP for Crowfoot; Don Macdonald, MP for Vegreville; and Cliff Dewey, MP for Battle River who is not seeking the nomination. Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Bob Dewey, president of the Alberta Federal Progressive Conservative Association while Roy Watson, national vice-president for Alberta of the Federal Association will be the returning officer. Both men are from Edmonton.

Ants may help fight forest pests

Microbes from the Department of Agriculture and Forestry have been found to help fight forest pests.

The microbes are being used in the experiments started last year. The ants are known to prey on other insects, attacking them mainly in their immature stages of development. It is hoped they will be effective in controlling the Japanese sawfly, one of the many to eat pests which take an annual toll of Canadian forests.

In some European countries, ants are so valued as pest controllers that their colonies are protected by law. In areas where sawfly attacks are pronounced, well-populated anthills are introduced to evaluate the ants' effect in freeing a wooded area from the pests. Both species of ants are known to be voracious predators, preying on insects and other animals in large groups. One method of capturing insects and recording their feeding habits.

Albetta moves to daylight saving time this Sunday morning, April 30, officially at 2:00 a.m. At that hour, clocks will be moved forward one hour, and citizens will be moved ahead one hour.

Except for citizens who plan to stay up to make the change, it is suggested that people go to bed at 10 p.m. Sunday night. That means if you retire at 10 p.m. Saturday night, your clock should be set back one hour.

Daylight saving means that those people who live by the clock will be enjoying an extra hour of evening daylight over the coming months.

Those who live by the sun, and acting of the sun, it will go on just as usual. It is the citizens who will miss their neighbors' presence during the day.

It may take a day or two for the people to become accustomed to the change. No doubt the loss of an hour's sleep will agitate a few. These individuals though, the clock will be able to tell them they'll be able to "sleep" an hour longer.

The speakers were the usually popular "Toffels" from the "future" shaped like a satellite have been ordered and will be sold in the Chambers area. The speakers will be ordered to promote Toffels were discussed and tabled for more information.

By Zorak, Chairman of Toftels to present a bulletin board in Toftels was accepted.

Clinton, editor of The Mercury attended last night meeting and explained one of the problems associated with having a newspaper delivered to the home is not allowed after publication.

The guest speaker for the evening was Harold Giesbach, president of the Chamber on the topic "Efficient Use of Money" which centered on the proper kind of life insurance to protect one's family.

QUINCESIMA

Dear Sir: Education is the backbone of the ultimate rise of our nation. It is the only way to the small one-room schoolhouse of the future. The techniques of teaching have also changed in order to adapt to our changing world. We have well-trained and experienced staff who are equipped to handle the needs of the school. The school is effective and serves its purpose as long as it serves the needs of the students. Or so I am told. Later, however, there has been considerable doubt. I think it is time the staff put aside all prejudice and are able to look beyond personal student clothes and realize how effective each one is. Each staff member has his own special gift to offer and it is up to each to realize and appreciate each other.

To conclude, let me just say "What good is it to sit and take notice if we continue to remain seated. We must move if our school is to remain effective."

Your truly,
A Concerned Student

GRANDMA PAUL A CALL

Wendell School,
Sharnbrook Park,
April 27th, 1972

Dear Mr. Wilson:

On Tuesday, April 25th, Grandma Sharnbrook called me. She told us stories of those days.

We thought you would like to tell everyone about her life in your newspaper. Mrs. Young is our teacher and sends a big hello to all her old neighbors.

Your friend, Peter Olson and students in Grades 1 and 2.

Dear Sir:

Any feeling of patriotism that might have existed in the district in regard to raising $20,000 in donations towards the building of the Complex was certainly not shared by me. I am a student and I am not of the age of opinion and high school seniors. I am not a member of the school and I am not a supporter of the cause. As the last of the school year approaches, I am sure that the results of the election will be in the hands of the voters. While the objective has not yet been reached, there is a good possibility that it will be. However, in the Complex is widespread and it might be, we fear over anything of the nature coming to the school. The highest individual donation received in 1970, with many in the hopes for 1971 range. Some have said they will make another donation next year. The decision to finance, in spite of the donations, is a commendable one. It is a happy and more satisfying thing to give rather than to be told for profit, and being more in accord with Christian principles, it has a tendency to bring the district closer together.

The Executive Committee acknowledges the contribution to the Project made by the Board, for the money that they have given to the project. Little more can be done by the way of donations, ability and willingness. Much is still to be done. Many interviews, uncomfortable decisions were made, and some come to the part of the understanding. When answers were given, the Executive Committee was taken of the experience of others in similar situations. In general, the public views only the finished product and is quite unaware of the effort which goes into it. The emphasis is on a durable building that will serve its purpose well, while at the same time, endeavoring to obtain a good price for every dollar spent.

Satisfaction with the construction is apparent. He is well equipped to handle the job and appears competent. More than that, he is quite co-operative in making any changes that are deemed advantageous.

Too many votes in hog board election

The last three VARADA (Voters' Association) elections, and so many votes in the recent election that the board of the Alberta Hog Producers Marketing Board has declared the election of Cornell Johnson invalid. As Election board producer, Mr. Johnson declared the election of three candidates for the post by seven votes, a complaint was lodged alleging irregularities in that voters whose names appeared on voters lists in another district actually voted in District 4. A later inquiry revealed that ten voters from outside areas actually did cast ballots. Wayne Smith, vice chairman of the Alberta Hog Producers Marketing Board declared, "Council has noted that the number of voters residing outside of District 4 is greater than the number of votes (7) separating winning and losing candidates. The intent of the Plan is that only residents of the district should be allowed to vote for the representative for that district."

Mr. Smith, a district chairman C. H. Forster, also emphasized that there appeared to be no organized effort to affect the outcome of the election, and so many votes in the election that the board has declared the election of Cornell Johnson invalid. Forster, also emphasized that there appeared to be no organized effort to affect the outcome of the election, and so many votes in the election that the board has declared the election of Cornell Johnson invalid. As Election board producer, Mr. Johnson declared the election of three candidates for the post by seven votes, a complaint was lodged alleging irregularities in that voters whose names appeared on voters lists in another district actually voted in District 4. A later inquiry revealed that ten voters from outside areas actually did cast ballots. Wayne Smith, vice chairman of the Alberta Hog Producers Marketing Board declared, "Council has noted that the number of voters residing outside of District 4 is greater than the number of votes (7) separating winning and losing candidates. The intent of the Plan is that only residents of the district should be allowed to vote for the representative for that district."

Tofield 4-H sets date for Achievement Day

By Marlene Bantick

On Thursday a meeting of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club was held. Robert Schockley called the meeting to order with Ron Kofka repeating the pledge.

Colleen Walker read the minutes of the last meeting. Grace Herring gave the financial report. It was reported that the 111 did well on its car wash and bake sale day.

Business was next on the agenda. The exchange trip to High River was discussed, as the camp at Moose Lake was thought to be the attraction of the members who were able to go.

The judging of the beef carcasses will be held at the fairgrounds on May 27th at 9 a.m. AC current day was the major discussion for the evening. The weighing is to start at 8:30 a.m. at the fairgrounds on the portable scales. The members were elected for the coming year. The members were elected for the coming year.

Rapid advancement is being made on the construction of the agricultural-sports complex in Tofield. All the steel supports are now in place and the roof is being put in place over the lobby. Work on the walls has been temporarily delayed when steel was rejected for not accepting the point. New steel is expected today (Thursday) but the completion deadline has been moved forward to June 15th. Canvasing for funds is still going on as another three thousand dollars is still needed. —The Mercury Newsphoto.

Tofield High School prom plans finalized

by Grace Phillips

Louise Sherbrook and her assistants are putting the final touches to the arrangements for the annual Tofield High School Prom. The prom is to be held on May 26th in the new auditorium in the Tofield.

For the first time there will be adequate room for spectators at the prom. The new larger auditorium with its balcony allows for more spectators to view the program. The larger space also means more to decorate. Increased costs for decorations and for music are the reasons for a different type of admission charge. The admission price of $1.50 per person will include attendance at the program, the Grand March and lunch, as well as participation.

The program will begin at seven o'clock, the dance at 8, and the Grand March and the money raised will be used to buy uniforms as well as equipment. Tickets for the function are available from any minor ball player and a ticket sold to a father will enable him to bring one or all of his sons to the banquet.

A member of the Edmonton Eskimos Football Club is also expected to speak and the new County Recreation Director at Norman Koster's.

Amateurism Day will be held on June 12th at the 18th. The Tofield senior basketball team is holding regular weekly practice sessions in preparation for the Provincial Basketball League. Those interested in playing should contact Ted Whyte at Tofield.

Business service will be extended through Highway 14 to the end of the 1140 Association. Those interested in playing should contact Ted Whyte at Tofield.

End of a King

The death Sunday of the Duke of Windsor, formerly King Edward VIII, brings to an end one of the most remarkable and unusual careers the world has seen in a long time. One filled with all sorts of qualities, ranging from palace to prison, from charm and wit to loneliness, and from exceptional standards of personal conduct and self sacrifice to intolerance of traditions and customs which had protected their usefulness.

Even today the recollection of Edward's renunciation of the throne, for those who can remember, recalls a period of confusion, of shocked realization that a man had been brought to the throne, the inevitable level of being up to the most important throne in the world, was a matter of principle, that of wishing to marry the woman he loved, over the objection of the Church which he could, and which refused to accept a divorce.

We have not heard the last of Edward, and it is to be hoped that as successive memories are related there will be more information available over the drama and the struggle for peace that marked his life. The world over he had been known during his days as Prince of Wales as a man of great spirit, sympathetic to the poorest, and for many of his people's actions, even though he was a king, in the rule of the law, the playing of the game, at which he was almost every evening person at. Even as was cast in one time or another.

He was given to service, and many years ago founded a boy's movement known as The B.O.B. which used as its motto, "Be a better boy than the one you are." He was a man of great spirit, sympathetic to the poorest, and for many of his people's actions, even though he was a king, in the rule of the law, the playing of the game, at which he was almost every evening person at. Even as was cast in one time or another.

Yet he was the darling of many of the people, who recalled his insistence during the First World War on placing himself in considerable personal danger to visit the men in the front, of visiting not just once, but all, the injured men in hospital, including those who had almost unbearable conditions, of looking deeply into situations in his own country, rather than just slumming over the surface.

Perhaps in this country he was most highly regarded in Southern Alberta, where among many visits, he remained to inspect an outbreak spread of the I.P. ranch, and where he stayed in the mud and misery.

It could be highly interesting to speculate on what kind of picture would have been had he not abdicated when he did. He had been known to be a man of great spirit, sympathetic to the poorest, and for many of his people's actions, even though he was a king, in the rule of the law, the playing of the game, at which he was almost every evening person at. Even as was cast in one time or another.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — Whatever happened to Health and Welfare Minister John Manion's plan to ban all provinces and territories from advertising cigarette ads in their respective and local newspapers? It was not too difficult for Mr. Manion to admit in view of the fact that advertising makes more money for the publishers than any other industry. The anticipated legislation early in 1971, the Canadian Tobacco Manufacturers' Council came up with statistics which showed the retail value of all tobacco products in Canada in 1970 was $1,135 million. Out of this, $1,000 million was paid to the publishers, leaving $135 million for the tobacco companies. The Council also said that in 1965 the tobacco companies had paid the publishers more than half the retail value of the cigarettes.

There has been one direct result from Mr. Manion's plan to ban all provinces and territories from advertising cigarette ads in their respective and local newspapers. The publishers have voluntarily ended advertising in the tobacco magazines. And as a result the tobacco companies have lost on their own ground the most important of the market.

The present motion of Parliament has been the first in many years regarding the controversial subject of cigarette advertising. It may have been a step in the right direction, as that was the intention of the government. The Government is now looking at the possibility of banning cigarette ads in the newspapers. The Government is now looking at the possibility of banning cigarette ads in the newspapers.

NO WARNING ON LABEL — Manufacturers who said that in addition to warning cigarettes advertising from tobacco, they would print a health warning on every package of cigarettes, have not yet fulfilled that undertaking. They did not even have the warning on their cigarette packs.

LEVEL AGREEMENT — The Commission itself was divided on its recommendation. The majority supports that cigarette companies should pay a fee of $100 million a year to the government. The Commission also recommended that the cigarette companies should pay a fee of $100 million a year to the government. ## Canadianizing the Norse is theme of book on Bardo

People from Bardo are an identity (earned in a new novel) from off the press, and even their which really took place in this place, community and far from Camrose are brilliantly revealed, although the overall characters have been made for them.

"It will bring tears to the eyes of the Norse," says a leading reviewer, who isn't Name. "This Land Is Our Land" is a gripping story right from the first page, and seems likely to be a best seller in the Camrose area, which, indeed, has been chosen as the official launch site for the new book. The author, Mrs. Magda Hendrickson, will be present for the launch party during the presentation of the new book at the Lutheran Church in Camrose on Monday. The book will officially go on sale at that time.

NORSE BACKGROUND
Printed by Youthful Luther Press in Calgary, it is a 200-page, paperback book, easy to read, and hard to put down. Mrs. Hendrickson says of her book that it is a tender love story from pioneer days, and tells of the Canadianization of the early Norse settlers in Alberta. It traces back to the time when Mrs. Hendrickson and Mrs. Ragna Sten were co-authoring another book "Pioneer Days in Bardo," which was published in 1941.

Mr. N. A. Rønning (an uncle of Chester Rønning) who wrote the introduction for that historical book, surprised Mrs. Hendrickson by insisting that she write a novel based on the earlier book. Many years elapsed before the seed on the idea and it took many more years to finish it.

Mrs. Hendrickson was born in 1890 and raised in Bardo. After marriage, she lived on a farm there for 30 years and raised a family of five. She and her husband moved to Camrose in 1908. She taught school for twenty years, and worked with the Lutheran Church. Women for many years, serving as president of the Camrose District from 1940 to 1947. During the thirties, and forties, she was also active in music festivals. She knows the Bardo district thoroughly over the span of an entire lifetime, and intimately knows the people around whom the story is woven.

MacDuff Ottawa Report

OTTAWA — When Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau announced there would not be an election this summer, he was really telling Canadians that the next two months of Liberal Party campaigning would be done at taxpayer expense.

The Progressive Conservatives, the New Democrats and the Social Credit Party and Parliament also will be able to use the money for their campaigning but not to the extent that the Liberals will enjoy.

The fact that the Liberals will be able to continue campaigning vigorously if used for re-election at public expense demonstrates a inherent weakness in the democratic system. These weak points will not be removed by the proposed amendments to the Canada Elections Act. It is doubtful it would possibly be impossible to draft an election act that removed all inequities among the parties.

By the very position, a government in a democratic system does not have the same advantages in campaigning. Almost everything that the Prime Minister or a Cabinet Minister does or says is news and receives public attention. Members of the Government can travel the country announcing proposed new legislation or plans for spending. Because they are in a position to implement their promises their statements receive much more attention than do similar comments by members of the opposition.

2. DEBTS DISCOUNTS
In putting together the physical components of a campaign the government also has many benefits that an opposition party can only envy. The government has access to large numbers of people who can organize a campaign, perform the work, choose and write speeches. Opposition parties are left with a few such people but it is only a fraction of what the government has.

CRAP TRAVEL
The government can command fleets of jet aircraft and helicopters to go to the remotest and accompanying parties.

Kingman news

(Mrs. J. A. Anderson)
Mrs. Evelyn Phillips moved to Tofield last week. She has sold the farm to Mr. Lucier of that district and has bought a house in Tofield.

Hilmar Johnson of the Pioneer Lodge, Grand Prairie was a visitor at J. A. Anderson's family afternoon, and a supper given at the Bardo Anderson's.

Guests of Mrs. Hilde Sturges were Mr. and Mrs. Signe Hilde and girls of Sherwood Park and Mrs. Mary Erickson of Camrose.

parties across the country in an unofficial campaign before an election is called. Ministers in Government executive jobs can make quick visits to other parts of the country to see that opposition representatives can travel to only by themselves at personal or party expense.

Large quantities of often costly office space are available to the government at tax payer's expense under the guise of being needed for the functioning of the departments or the Prime Minister's office. The opposition parties get only a few space, and telephones and secretaries and administrative and reproduction machines — all at public expense. But the government determines just how much of these things the opposition parties can have from tax money. Strongly the amount of office space and secretaries given to the opposition parties does not start to equal that allotted by the government.

Perhaps it is proper, perhaps even vital, that the government should have these advantages. For some reason public disbursement with prime ministers and presidents seem to be very quickly. Perhaps this is a phenomenon of today's politics that must be

County agricultural news

by Irv A. Chisholm

PESTS
Grasshoppers have destroyed an estimated 6,000 acres in the County of Watrous since the year. If conditions such as warm dry weather and persistent south-east winds predominate, there could be further incursions in the County of Beaver. With this possibility in mind, it would be advisable to check headlands periodically to determine if grasshoppers are present.

Grasshoppers per square yard warrants some serious thought regarding spraying. The chemical, distributor, is recommended for grasshoppers and will be available through the County in the event of an outbreak.

From all indications, Bertha employees will be present in many ways again this year. According to surveys carried out by the Department of Agriculture, the people have been told in good condition and the results are now being flown in some localities. To complete the cycle, the results will then be sent to the main tax office and the results will then be sent to the main tax office. The complete process will take up to four weeks. The first results will be sent to the main tax office as early as mid-July. The County will handle the results and will then be sent to the main tax office. The County will handle the results and will then be sent to the main tax office.

Numerous reports of spider mites, pearlings and other shell-bell insects have been received this year. The mites, Malak, on a safe and effective insecticide to remove these pests. The County does not handle it; however, most hardware drug and grocery stores in the County have it on hand. A portable high pressure sprayer unit may be rented from the County for a fee of $200 per use per farm.

WEEDS
A new service will be available to taxpayers this season in the war against weeds. In areas where a conventional farm sprayer cannot be used successfully (e.g. fence lines, rough and field margins, etc.) the County now has available a truck with a high pressure sprayer unit mounted plus an operator. The "sucker" may be rented on a 60 percent cost shared arrangement with the County using the funds share. The total cost will be comprised of labor, truck rental and chemical. For an estimate of labor, truck rental and chemical for a given area, feel free to contact the Field staff or send inquiries.

partnership may be acknowledged and that upon the dissolution of the marriage, each will have a right to an equal share in the assets accumulated during marriage otherwise than by gift or inheritance received by either spouse from outside sources.

We recommend that (a)

both the Canada and the Quebec Pensions plan be amended so that the spouse who remains at home can participate in the Plan, and (b) the feasibility be explored of (c) the crediting to the spouse remaining at home a portion of the contributions of the employed spouse and those contributions made by the employer on the employee's behalf, and (d) an optional plan, permitting the spouse at home to contribute as a self-employed worker.

Other recommendations deal with family life and sex education, birth control information, and legalized abortion.

What are your opinions about these recommendations? Do you agree or disagree with what they say? The above recommendations are only a few of the total 187 made but they illustrate the importance of studying the recommendations

so we are aware of what implication may be placed.

Did you know that 23 of the recommendations are already law? The Federal Government has set up 43 Day Care Centres across Canada and they cover

80 per cent of the cost. The Provincial Government pays

the remaining 20 per cent. This was a recommendation but now it is law.

Are you able to use this service? Another recommendation suggests that free Day Care

Centres be set up on a sliding scale based on the means of the parents. Perhaps you would have preferred this arrangement.

Now is the time, before any more of the other recommendations become law to make yourself aware of what this report contains. (Insert the recommendations with others because you feel they should be done, then do something about it. Anyone can send comments on the recommendations to Citizens Advisory Committee for the Statute of Western, Room 204, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

Don't wait until the recommendations become law and then complain. Act now!

Inquest set into deaths of Holdenites

Alberta Chief Coroner, Mr. M. J. Garton announced on July 18 that an inquest into the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. John Clinton Armstrong would be held this fall.

Mr. Garton announced the holding of the inquest into the deaths of a better known to the RCMP and suggested that the inquest would be held early in September.

The Holden couple and their car were discovered on June 18 at the bottom of a 110-foot cliff in the Peace River.

They had been missing since September 1971 after they had left Holden in their car.

The inquest will be the first of a sub-judicial inquest which went on into the accident. It was believed that the Armstrongs had been involved. Their disappearance prompted a North American-wide search which, of course, failed to turn up any trace of them until their discovery in the August.

Mighty Nature

Nature's potential force at times becomes almost incredible in its might, and one of these times was here last Friday evening, as a storm bore through the area near Bow.

Power lines, trees, even corn-ponds had been developed as the storm passed, as trees, barns, granaries and other objects were demolished when they found a washing machine when they met their end. And they want a military power of an old field made to operate. And to think the whole thing is caused by the conflict of two opposing wind forces in the upper atmosphere.

Fortunate it is that in this part of the world, wind storms are relatively rare, and most of the time we learn about the power of Nature only when it affects people in other areas. But expressions of the kind experienced last Friday, being a normal two weeks. We can be grateful we are spared most of this kind of experience.

Friends come through

Many of the people who live in this area are grateful that the time for the last week's storm has passed. And it is a relief that the weather has been so kind.

Some of the people who live in this area are grateful that the time for the last week's storm has passed. And it is a relief that the weather has been so kind.

Rains welcome

Nearly all the people who live in this area are grateful that the time for the last week's storm has passed. And it is a relief that the weather has been so kind.

September 1, 1972
 Canada's 28th Parliament has been dissolved and a General Election called for October 30th.

The first legislative measure which covered the way for the calling of an election was a Bill to restore longshoremen and grain handling operations on the West Coast of Canada.

As a result of 3300 striking longshoremen, a recall of the three weeks. Then, in March, the Post Office workers' contract expired. Negotiations and talks continue but no settlement has been reached. A Post Office strike during the election campaign is imminent.

In June, the ports of Montreal, Three Rivers and Quebec were hit by a severe weather system resulting in a loss of an estimated $10 million and finally settled by the government. Legislation to deal with labour unrest in the public sector, resulting in 220,000 man days being lost through airfare and beyond in the first six months of this year as compared to 152,000 man days for the same period last year.

You will recall in January this year a drastic control over strike and disrupted air traffic for nearly two weeks. A few days later, the main tenement, electricity, walked off their jobs, the result of which further disrupted air travel for an additional period of three weeks. Then, in March, the Post Office workers' contract expired. Negotiations and talks continue but no settlement has been reached. A Post Office strike during the election campaign is imminent.

Coming home to roost

The Liberal government is finally coming home to roost these days, as evidence mounts that it tried to move too far too fast in the field of guaranteed annual income. That's hardly what they called it, but that's what they called it. The Liberal government is finally coming home to roost these days, as evidence mounts that it tried to move too far too fast in the field of guaranteed annual income. That's hardly what they called it, but that's what they called it.

It's hard to feel anything else but that the benefits are too high when evidence keeps coming in of employees who quit work just to loaf for a few weeks, or of unemployed who refuse to accept jobs for a varety of reasons, most of which aren't really valid.

Mr. Tofield can claim that the deficits, now rolling into the two billion dollar figure for the year, were planned that way, but it doesn't really ring true unless it was intended to become a guaranteed annual income, rather than a stopgap for temporarily unemployed people. The original intent was that those unemployed for longer periods would have to move onto the welfare rolls. But a two billion dollar deficit hurts in any- body's field, especially if it's supposed to be an insurance fund. Whoever loses over the government in November will have trouble with this one, because it's a hot potato to handle.

CANADA CAN

Readers have almost become used to our persistent, if irregular, references to the fact that Canadians, can and do accomplish a great deal in this world, where we often tend to discount our capabilities, and our performance because they don't stand up beside the tremendous accomplishments of our neighbors south of the border, or across the waters of the Atlantic.

So we were keenly interested this week to receive a publicity piece on Pierre Berton's accomplishments in the field of book writing, (which naturally does a good job promoting some of his new books, too).

Well known as a writer of the most colorful and vital prose, Berton has managed to take what used to be considered straight history, and write it in such a fashion as to be completely and extraordinarily absorbing... "riveting" was the word used by one American reviewer.

What makes it all more interesting is that his book, The National Dream, just hit a record unequalled in Canadian publishing, passing more than a hundred weeks on the best seller list in the country. For more than a year it was Number One on the Berton book, The Last Spike. Both are about the building of the CPR, which in any man's language must be one of the epic achievements of all time.

He has more in the making, too, but some interesting fact surfaces from the report... The Last Spike was edged out of top place, after fifty weeks on the list, by another book, not named, and by another author, not named.

So it isn't only Berton... there are other Canadian writers who can command top spot. And beating Berton, incidentally, also means setting whole new records in a Canadian industry which used to consider 10,000 copies a big sale. The two mentioned books have nearly reached the quarter million mark.

We've said it many times before, but it should be sung out loud more often: Canada can do these things. Canada can.

Down to the housewife

Demands that we do something about pollution, that we stop upsetting the balance of nature, that we stop stinking up the atmosphere, and destroying foliage are something that we all hear about, and usually associate with the big mining companies, the pulp and paper companies, the petroleum producers, the smelters and so on.

But the July-August issue of the Canadian Consumer magazine brings home just how much depends on the individual, too, and the sacrifices which must be made by the ordinary housewife, in order to reap the full benefits. Automatic dishwasher may become obsolete, at least temporarily, says The Consumer, reporting on the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, because of restrictions on phosphate-free dishwasher detergents.

The problem is that there are no phosphate-free dishwasher detergents now in national distribution. Until science comes to the rescue with new preparations which will do the job, it may be the housewife of the nation who are making one of the biggest contributions to the clean-up effort.

The fog comes from the bureaucrats

Three Hills, Sept. 12th

Ivor Sir:

I would appreciate space in your paper to report a break in the weather modification conflict that has occurred recently in the U.S., which clarifies the confusion and of the utmost importance to us here in Alberta.

In 1971, when Chisholm and surrounding states were definitely in the grip of a severe drought, The Farmer Stockman, a paper similar to the Kric's forecast, noted that in 1959 Dr. Kric had forecast this drought and recommended cloud seeding to reduce its intensity. At the time he was ignored but since events proved him over in his forecast of drought for the 1970s, the question arose that he might also be right about cloud seeding. This paper investigated the possibility with the upshot that Governor David Hall of that state appointed a 14-man Weather Modification Study Committee to examine the matter thoroughly.

They came to the conclusion that the ground governor method of cloud seeding by Dr. Kric was valid, much cheaper, far more effective than the aircraft seeding method of the U.S. Weather Bureau, and that the Bureau of Public Health should be advised by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

So it isn't only Berton... there are other Canadian writers who can command top spot. And beating Berton, incidentally, also means setting whole new records in a Canadian industry which used to consider 10,000 copies a big sale. The two mentioned books have nearly reached the quarter million mark.

We've said it many times before, but it should be sung out loud more often: Canada can do these things. Canada can.

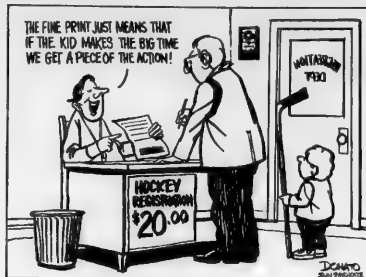

amounts to an area similar to a project extension from Calgary in Edmonton and back to the north.

Initially in 1971 and again in 1972, the Bureau of Reclamation, which has been in the weather modification program ever since, refused to accept the report of the Kric's program. In 1971, the program was using aircraft seeding in the state of Colorado and Washington, and in 1972, the program was using aircraft seeding in the state of Colorado and Washington, and in 1972, the program was using aircraft seeding in the state of Colorado and Washington.

For further details, see the report of the U.S. Weather Bureau, which is available from the U.S. Weather Bureau, which is available from the U.S. Weather Bureau.

So it isn't only Berton... there are other Canadian writers who can command top spot. And beating Berton, incidentally, also means setting whole new records in a Canadian industry which used to consider 10,000 copies a big sale. The two mentioned books have nearly reached the quarter million mark.

Swinebreeders face new pregnancy disease

If 50 per cent of your sows are having litter of 11 or more, you are a swine breeder. If 50 per cent of your sows are having litter of 11 or more, you are a swine breeder. If 50 per cent of your sows are having litter of 11 or more, you are a swine breeder.

Dr. G. G. Klavano, microbiologist at the Alberta Veterinary Services Laboratory in Edmonton, reports the S.M.E.D.I., which stands for stillborn, mummification, embryonic death and infertility, that is spreading in this province as a definite disease in 1968. Since that time it has occurred sporadically in some herds here.

The new mummified pig appears in most normal herds from time to time, but very seldom is there more than one in a litter.

Dr. Klavano states the following as a typical case history of S.M.E.D.I. In a herd of 100 sows, one sow had a "clean" herd litter of 12 pigs carrying the virus from another herd. It came with a pregnant female in the litter.

Dr. Klavano says there are all many unknown causes of S.M.E.D.I. We do not know, for example, how it is transmitted, but we feel it is by direct contact. We do know how long the disease lasts after the disease has occurred. Some feel it may be for as long as two or three years. However, we feel that we have enough knowledge about S.M.E.D.I. to say made when the embryos are

Horner opens Tofield Library

Five hundred and forty-five people gathered to watch Deputy Premier Dr. Hugh Horner cut a ribbon and officially open the new Agricultural Society of Tofield on Thursday evening.

In a unique ceremony, Dr. Horner used the blade of a scythe to cut the ribbon and was later presented with the scythe as a memento of the occasion. A musical performance by the Tofield choir followed.

Dr. Horner was assisted by Les Usher, Deputy Minister of Youth, Culture and Recreation, Dr. H. H. Harris, Executive Director of the Federal Government, and Andy Holberg, president of the Tofield and District Agricultural Society.

Following the ribbon cutting ceremony, principles were outlined by Arnold Smith, Deputy Mayor of Tofield; George Knudsen, Deputy Mayor of the County of Tofield; and the Regional Recreation Board and Mr. Usher.

Mr. A. Dr. Walter spoke about the library and the challenges for an exhibition space in the Tofield area at any time between the Tofield and the Tofield area.

Also speaking briefly were Don Mazankowski, MP for Tofield and surrounding areas, and several other dignitaries.

Other participants included all members of the church from Tofield. Approximately 1,000 people attended the service.

The complex was to have three openings, with the third to be a "family night" on Friday. However, the day was postponed for two weeks because of other commitments in the community.

Members of the building committee were Andy Holberg, chairman; Charlie Jones, Brian Vetter, and Homer Schmidt.

The opening ceremonies consisted of a musical performance by the Tofield choir, a prayer by Rev. Paul Vargha, and a presentation of the keys to the building by Dr. Horner.

The Tofield 4-H Club will hold its reorganizational meeting on Thursday, October 19th in the Tofield Library.

All young people between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible to join if they are able to find a place to live. Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend the meeting which starts at eight o'clock.

More information may be obtained by contacting Robert Schaefer or John Moore.

Lakeshore - McKenzie news items

(Mrs. Elton Eason)
Mrs. Elton Wood of the Lakeshore district left Wednesday morning for Edmonton where she will join others on a Charter Flight to celebrate a three-week vacation over the weekend with her family.

Cold weather hit the district over the weekend with temperatures dropping to near zero on Monday evening, strong winds and occasional snow. The cold spell but no far from the old adage that a light rain early Sunday morning helped harvest one again for a few days.

Quite a number of farmers have several acres still to be cut or mowed with a lot down that following the first snow.

Helen and Joe Murray mentioned members of their family at a Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday. Among those present were their daughter, Joy, and Alan Warner and family of Tafelberg; their daughter, Joy, and Alan Warner and family; and another daughter, Joy, and George Lukatsch and family, all of Edmonton.

Terry Walker, son of Melva and Ross Walker of this district, was married to Shirley Erickson daughter of Mrs. Erickson of Whitecourt on Thursday October 5th at Whitecourt, where the young couple will make their home.

On Saturday October 7th an early Thanksgiving Turkey Dinner and celebration in honor of Terry and Shirley at the Walker home here before all returned to their homes. Set and those all of Chagray at table.

THE LAND IS STRONG

When we look around us, we see and feel the vitality of the land: farmers have better incomes; family incomes are rising; fishermen are getting better prices; businessmen report improved earnings. We have experienced real increases in salaries and wages. At the same time, there are still problems that remain to be solved, work that has to be done.

This election campaign is an important opportunity for all Canadians to help chart the course they want to take into the last quarter of the 20th century.

THE LIBERAL RECORD A STRONG RECORD

WORLD'S BEST EMPLOYMENT RECORD:

- In June, 1972, 8,561,000 people were working in Canada — an increase of 382,000, or an increase of over 3% from the same period last year.
- A total of 1,300,000 new jobs were created in Canada between 1965 and 1970. That is 400,000 — 3% — more than the increase in employment of all 15 countries belonging to the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. As a combined, despite the fact their population is 13% times that of Canada.
- In relative terms, employment in Canada increased 67% times as much as in the United States between 1965 and 1970, and 27 times as fast as the 15 European nations taken together.
- In 1970 and 1971, employment in Canada grew at three times the rate in the United States.

WORLD'S BEST RECORD AGAINST INFLATION:

- Canada's performance in fighting inflation is better than all industrialized nations.
- Consumer prices rose by 2.8% in 1971 compared with 3.3% in 1970, lowest rate in the Western World.
- By comparison, U.S. rate 4.3%; comparison of O.E.C.D. members 5% to 10% inflation rates.
- Wholesale prices rose by only 1.2%, the best performance since 1966.
- According to the O.E.C.D. Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Canada's economic growth in 1971 was among the highest in the world.
- The average inflation rate in the Western World was 5.5% in 1970, compared with 3.3% in Canada.
- The average performance of all Western industrialized nations.

VIRGIL MOSHANSKY

THE WORLD'S BEST MANAGED ECONOMY:

- Canada's economy has been the most effectively managed in the world.
- 1971 G.N.P. increase of 9.1%, compared with the 7.3% increase in the United States.
- Real volume of output advanced by about 5% in 1971, compared to less than 3% in the United States.

WORLD'S HIGHEST PENSION FOR SENIOR CITIZENS:

- Canada's Old Age Security pension is the highest in the world.
- Guaranteed Income Supplement combination of $350 monthly for the aged, plus $100 for the aged, compared with $235 per month for the aged in the United States.
- $5,620 a year for married couples.

ALL-TIME RECORD HIGH WHEAT PRICES:

- 65% increase in past 2 months.
- Wheat prices in Canada are the highest in the world.
- Highest final payment expected.

ALL-TIME RECORD HIGH GRAIN SALES

By Grace Phillips
Friday, November 17, is the day when the Tofield Parent-Teacher Day for the 1972-73 school year in the Tofield School.

Parent cards will be issued on November 15 so that parents may have time to meet them before attending the day.

Interviews are scheduled so that the parents of each student may have fifteen minutes with their child's teacher. Where more than one teacher is concerned with a student's instruction, parents are most welcome to see as many as possible of the teachers concerned.

Many forms will be sent home to allow parents to provide special items for the interviews. If their schedules make such a request necessary.

Mazankowski wins handily

DON MAZANKOWSKI

Incumbent Don Mazankowski easily won a second successive term of office in the Vegreville constituency following Monday's federal election.

Despite earlier predictions that his majority would be cut in this election, the Progressive Conservative M.P. from Vegreville actually increased his majority as compared to the 1968 election. Mazankowski polled 19,371 votes as compared to only 3,711 for his nearest rival, Liberal David McKeown, also of Vegreville.

In this place was the NDP's Elmer Jensen with 2,644 votes, followed by the Social Credit with 2,644 votes. The four losers all lost their $200 deposits for polling less than one-half of the votes recorded by Mazankowski.

In terms of the popular vote, Mazankowski polled 72.9% of all valid votes as compared to 61.6% in the 1968 election.

A total of 26,839 voters cast ballots out of a possible 31,122 which means a turnout of 77% of the eligible voters in the Vegreville constituency.

Dr. Kashuba addresses Ryley graduating class

The class of '72 commemorated their graduation from Ryley School on the evening of September 18th.

The graduates, their parents and friends attended a banquet at the Ryley Community Hall prior to the ceremony. The Helen Monahan Ladies served an excellent turkey supper to approximately 125 guests.

Minutes of ceremonies for the banquet was Miss Mona Kondolien, Howard Dyer of the Queen, Toad to the graduates. The graduates were given by Phyllis Taylor who expressed the good wishes of the entire staff.

After the supper, Evelyn Dyer then presented a toast to the parents, to which Harold Taylor replied.

Following the banquet the exercises took place in the beautifully decorated school gymnasium.

The graduates filed on stage as Mrs. Linda Lyons played the prearranged Chorus of the exercises was Henry Van Berkle. Don Macdonald offered the invocation.

The valedictory was given by Ralph Berke, who stressed the importance of preparing to accept responsible roles in society.

Russians buy cattle

An outstanding achievement for Helen's farm is that recently when a group of Russians, with their interpreter, visited at the Zivichuk farm and bought from Jim Zivichuk his brother, Charles, and son Allen, 12 head of head Shorthorn cattle.

The Zivichuks are of the standing farmers of the district and one of the remaining pioneer farming families.

Snowmobiles are still pretty much the same. The beautiful difference... Skiroule.

There are two routes you can go on snowmobiling. You can run with the pack. Or break away on your own. You can be like everyone else. Or be distinctively different. Skiroule does the latter course and brought a dramatic new look to snowmobiling. By applying aerodynamic principles to its design, Skiroule combines form with function. Beautifully. Delivering all the performance its racy lines promise. Dependably.

Fire destroys pigfarm

...for second time in four years

A second fire in four years has wiped out Al Kempf's pig farming operations at Lethbridge, and this time the wipe-out is permanent.

The fire was discovered about ten o'clock Monday night when a passing motorist noticed smoke coming out of the door to what Mr. Kempf says was his first discovery that something was wrong. When he first discovered what was happening, Mr. Kempf was in his pajamas.

Mr. Kempf reported that the front part of the barn fell over in only five minutes and that, only forty-five minutes after the fire was discovered, the entire barn and its contents were gone.

Firemen from Sherwood Park with three trucks and the volunteer fire department in Tofield responded to the alarm, but arrived too late to salvage anything.

Reports indicate that there were thirty breeding sows and over 200 piglets in the barn at the time of the fire. All were destroyed.

It is assumed that the fire started from a faulty furnace which had been repaired just a short time ago. Mr. Hartman indicated that he suspected the fire had started with the furnace.

The loss, estimated at about $5,000 was fully covered by insurance.

Insurance. However, his policy stipulates that, to claim full credit, Mr. Kempf must rebuild and this is something Mr. Kempf doesn't plan to do.

Four years ago, Mr. Kempf had a similar occurrence when a fire wiped out his first barn and 300 pigs that were almost ready for market. Damage insured for only a quarter of the $40,000 loss. Mr. Kempf started over and everything was going good, until Monday night's fire.

Champion oyster eater last Wednesday evening was Paul Charlton, well known manager of the Legion Branch in Camrose, although he only just managed to squeak through four oysters ahead of Ken Higgs, and Dr. Bill Parsons at Bad Deer. Mr. Charlton was presented with the trophy by Legion president Bill Kennedy for spending and eating 143 oysters in one hour, while the runners-up managed to go through 141 each. The first cent of its kind in Camrose, the best drive the oyster and patio foundations.

Ryley plans parent night

by Hilja Jensen

The first "Parent Night" of this school term is to be held in Ryley School on December 7th.

"Parent Night" is one form of communication between the community and school. (Suggested topics for discussion are: 1. The Worth Community; 2. Goals of Education; 3. Survey results of last spring's "Parent Night"; 4. A problem related to school life.)

In preparation for their first real competition, Ryley's "Parent Night" for the year, team challenged a teacher's team on Thursday, Nov. 23rd. Team members were Debbie Hargland, Ellen Owen, Miss Knudsen, Brian Lewis, the students, and H. Van Berke, B. Kopp, F. Vetter, and O. Zwickel. For the teachers, it was a close game but the teachers squeaked by with a score of 29 to 18.

Following is the list of the names of children born in the Tofield area in 1971.

For the purposes of registration at the Tofield School, any parent whose child was born in 1971 and whose name does not appear on the list, is asked to phone the Tofield School with the required information.

All set to become the rage of the executive players, is the world's first and only quarter-inch portable video tape recorder. Better than the golf cart, it's good for all seasons and, it's a participation toy of almost limitless potential. This, it's not quite what you'd call a Christmas stocking stuffer, although if it's $495 price tag is almost half the price of a new car, it's a real bargain. What's more, it runs on batteries, almost without special lighting, comes with directional microphone plus some very affordable options.

Not all loss

With all the talk about the cost of airplane crashes in the north country, running into the million dollar mark and more, one thing seems to have been forgotten which should be figured in.

It's by no means all net loss, or net cost, for the Fovres are regularly called on to log many hours of flying time simply to keep themselves, their wives and their planes in trim. We've even heard some rescue team members comment that there is more training in fly search patterns than simply to put in hours required by regulations, flying from one point to another, and back again.

Another thing which should be stressed more is the pressure on these northern pilots to try the impossible. Everywhere in the North there's a chance of catastrophe when one of these emergency flights takes off, but they know also there's a chance the pilot can't put it off... with good luck. And when there's a life definitely in the balance, the pilot who backs off can be sure there's no life for him in that area any longer, no matter how difficult the mission.

One thing we don't understand, though, is why these planes don't carry enough concentrated emergency rations for a month for every passenger when they take off in such circumstances. A month's supply of the old American Rations would fill a motorized carton, but a month's supply of the D-Rations would take less room than a loaf of bread. Surely that's not too much to carry... just in case.

Birth of a Savior

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

(As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord.)

And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

And he came by the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

How many things have you got to do before the big day? If you're anything like me, I imagine the list is overwhelming... in fact downright discouraging.

I'm afraid I can offer no magic solution to your problem except that by Christmas Day you'll find that somehow or other you've managed to get everything done.

At any rate I'm not going to write a newspaper column on "How to Trim the Tree" or "How to Cook a Turkey". Instead I found an interesting article on Christmas Dinners in Early Canada. I think when you read it, your list will look smaller and you'll be happy that you're not a pioneer housewife. Without today's modern appliances and conveniences, food, heat and fuel would have been a real problem. It's amazing how much more time and energy for Christmas festivities and good Christmas dinners in Canada in the early days did not lack variety. Judging from accounts of an early 17th century dinner in Quebec it might appear to a gourmet.

There were cakes of corn bread, great barrels of salt salmon, and beans all boiled together and served in bowls. This was followed by rich meat soup thickened with milk and cream. Corn, and baked squash formed the main course. Then came great joints of roast venison, deep fried fish, baked wild fowl, partridges, blackbirds and geese. For dessert, there were cakes of maple sugar and a sweetener of nut and safflower seeds with a sauce made of dried berries and boiling water.

A Christmas meal at Fort Edmonton, in 1857 included roast buffalo meat, fresh moose meat, the buffalo tongue, corn, and baked squash. There were also joints of roast venison, deep fried fish, baked wild fowl, partridges, blackbirds and geese. For dessert, there were cakes of maple sugar and a sweetener of nut and safflower seeds with a sauce made of dried berries and boiling water.

Now add the secret of pine, the brightness of holly, the sound of chimes, the sight of lights. But in a generous quantity of gaiety. Six well, then dance in the warmth of good-will to all men would it bubble with laughter. Gaiety with gifts tied with your heart strings. Serve by the light of a star in the firm of a Christmas card. This recipe is said to serve the whole world.
